

Bashful Valentine

JUST ABOUT overwhelmed by the sentiment, 4-year-old Maureen Gilbride of 1133 Manzanita Drive, Pacifica, accepts an early valentine from her next door neighbor, Gilbert Lee Jr., 3, of 1131 Manzanita. The scene will have a raft of encores Friday when North County sweethearts emulate these two youngsters.

PROLONGED DISCUSSION

JESD Teachers Get a 5% Raise

By DON MILLER

Teachers in the Jefferson Elementary School District Monday night were granted a pay raise of five per cent with a proviso that 60 per cent of any additional funds voted by the legislature this year be used to boost the five per cent to seven per cent.

In a related action, the district's board of trustees approved a 3.4 per cent cost-of-living pay increase for its classified employees (custodians, bus drivers, clerks etc.).

Laguna Plan For Districts Is Supported

The Board of Trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School District Monday night voted to support a proposal that two unified school districts be created within the present boundaries of the Jefferson Union High School District.

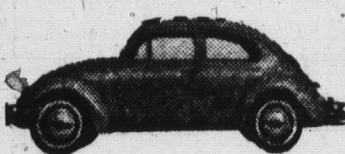

The proposal had been advanced by the Laguna Salada School District and circulated, by letter, to school boards in the North County.

The Laguna Salada plan calls for one unified district to include only the Laguna area and the other to include the Jefferson, Bayshore, and Brisbane Elementary Districts.

An alternate proposal, according to the Laguna plan, would be to have Brisbane and Bayshore undertake annexation to the South San Francisco Unified District.

Jefferson Elementary District's support came after a motion by trustee O. Wayne Douglas. (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

The raises in salaries will cost the district about $132,000 a year. Funds for the increases will be taken from reserve accounts and from unexpended monies.

Approval of the pay raises came after a prolonged discussion in which trustees debated the merits of a four cent boost worked out as a compromise earlier between the district's administration and the Jefferson Classroom Teachers' Association.

The compromise also had called for 60 per cent of new state aid to be used to boost the four per cent to seven per cent.

Members of the association first had rejected the compromise, then later approved it.

After Trustee Mrs. Katherine Mullen moved that the four per cent proposal be adopted, Board Chairman Thomas Noonan suggested that the district pay a flat five per cent without any provision concerning state aid monies.

His suggestion was opposed by Schools Supt. Richard T. Foster, who said the board, by adopting such a move, would be "repudiating the leadership of your superintendent."

He said that this proposal, coming after teachers had already moved from a position of not supporting the four per cent compromise to supporting it, would "place them (the teachers) in an impossible situation as far as morale is concerned."

And he added: "I'd say this was an exceedingly poor move. I'm not speaking for the teachers." (Please See Page 2, Column 8)

Heavy Cyclist Case Solved?

The case of the missing 300-pound Canadian woman whose passport and a number of personal belongings were found February 1 on a bluff overlooking Thornton Beach in Daly City appeared to be nearing solution this week.

Sgt. Thomas Culley of Daly City said that Los Angeles police have reported that a 300-pound woman, matching the missing person's description, was in a hospital there, suffering from amnesia.

Two women hikers had discovered the passport, issued to (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

JUHS Riled By Exchange Pupil Charge

By LOUANNE HEATH

The Board of Trustees of the Jefferson Union High School District Monday night referred to the district attorney's office a columnist's article, charging that a board member in effect, was responsible for Pacifica losing its first foreign exchange student.

The student, Julio Cornaglia from Argentina, has moved to Berkeley. He had been living with Mr. and Mrs. Don Miller in Pacifica and attending Terra Nova High School until the Millers moved to San Mateo.

Trustee Jerry Miles quoted the columnist, who writes in a Coastside weekly newspaper, as saying that if Miles hadn't won a legal suit against Miller and taken over the Miller home as a result, the Millers wouldn't have moved and Cornaglia would still be in Pacifica.

"What upsets me most," Miles declared sharply, "is the fact that this article seems to place some responsibility upon the board for my personal legal problems. This is not reporting the facts. This is reporting without fact."

Trustee James Cooper moved that the article be sent to the district attorney's office for comment. He observed:

"This is an attack on the (Please See Page 2, Column 6)

Reservoir to Be Patched

A crack in one of Daly City's reservoirs has been discovered by the Water Department.

City Engineer William Chapman said the leak, although serious, was not dangerous and could not lead to another Baldwin Hills dam disaster.

The leak, if it continued, however, could damage the million-gallon reservoir located at the end of Thiers Street, Chapman said.

Chapman and Howard Dial, an engineer with the Globe Lining Company, Monday dove into the reservoir, using Scuba equipment, to locate the leak.

The leak was discovered last month when the tank was being cleaned, Chapman said.

However, engineers could not determine the extent of the leak while the tank was empty because the lack of water pressure often permits a tank wall to contract.

The two engineers donned special suits that completely covered their bodies and then took a chlorine bath before making the dive.

Dial and another diver, Robert Castleberry, will go into the tank again to seal the leak with a special epoxy.

Chapman said the Globe firm, with offices in Los Angeles, specializes in this type of work.

TRAGEDY IN S.S.F.

Another Weekend Is Bloodied

By GEORGE GOLDING
Another sunny weekend has been bloodied by the death of a boy crossing Junipero Serra Boulevard in South San Francisco.

Mothers, angry and frightened, are circulating petitions to prevent further child slaughter. Aware of the ever-present danger to their youngsters who must cross the state highway to school, the mothers cite similarities in two deaths on two successive weekends.

Again, the fatal driver was from outside the county.

Again, the death occurred just after 3 p.m.

Again, vision was good and the roadway dry.

Again, the death occurred in Winston Manor.

And again, the driver was held faultless.

John Clayton, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Clayton, 245 San Felipe Street, was killed Sunday as he crossed Junipero Serra 973 feet north of the King Street intersection.

The death occurred within sight of the spot where Patrick Moriarty, 5, died a week ago Saturday.

Both lads had been crossing the bustling boulevard in company with older brothers.

In Patrick's death, he had been following his brother Michael across the Clay street crosswalk when he dashed into the oncoming auto driven by Werner F. Chilton of San Rafael.

John's death, Sunday, occurred when he dashed across the northbound lanes ahead of his brother, Joseph Jr., 13.

Driving the fatal pickup truck was Frank Nallicks, 47, of Santa Clara.

Led by Mrs. Pauline Finerty, Winston Manor mothers have been circulating petitions asking for a pedestrian overpass. More than 1,000 signatures have been secured.

John Siacotos, Winston Manor Homeowners Association president, appeared at the City Council's session last week, asking for city aid in getting the overpass.

Mayor Patrick Ahern outlined the problems, because Junipero Serra is a state highway, but pledged to help.

Today, the parents are planning to move directly on state highway officials with letters and requests.

Siacotos has called a meeting of his association's board of directors for tonight to discuss possible safety measures.

Police say neither driver could be held at fault, because the boys dashed into the two-lane roadway without warning.

Neither of the youths was in a crosswalk, and both drivers were reportedly traveling at legal speeds.

St. Clair Quits Council

SPECIAL MEETING SET

Leaves D. C. For Millbrae

By RON BATES

One of the most colorful councilmen in Daly City history left the city's political scene Monday night when Bob St. Clair, former mayor and a San Francisco 49er, officially resigned from the city council.

St. Clair, whose intention to move to Millbrae was first reported in a Post-Times story in September, vacates a position he has held since 1958. He had two years remaining on his term.

The City Council will hold a special meeting next Monday to name his successor.

The outspoken councilman who had served as mayor from 1961 to 1962, told the council he had moved from his 70 Ocean Grove Avenue home to a new residence in the Mills Estates of Millbrae January 29.

Monday night's session was the first council meeting since he had moved, he explained. Members of the council voiced their regret and paid tribute to St. Clair, as his wife, Anne, with tears in her eyes, sat in the audience.

St. Clair expressed thanks to the members of the council and the city family. He singled out Daly City Parks Superintendent August Conci as someone who had given him special assistance during his tenure on the council.

"My big wish and hope is that the voters realize the fine work the city council has done in the past," St. Clair said. "With the Christen Ranch development in the future, it's important that the (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

Bus Fares To Be Hiked

A five-cent overall fare increase was approved for the Northgate Transit Company by the State Public Utilities Commission last week.

The new weekday rate will be 20 cents. School children will pay 15 cents. The fare on Sundays and holidays will be 25 cents.

The raise will enable Northgate to turn a $22,230 deficit this year into a $4,030 profit, the commission said.

In a public hearing held two months ago in the Daly City Hall, transportation engineers recommended the rate increase with a stipulation that Northgate hire a general manager, eliminate five of its ten buses and set up a preventative maintenance safety program.

Eastmoor Park O. K. Deferred

A controversial plan to build 800 apartments adjacent to Westmoor High School was bounced back to the Daly City Planning Commission by the Daly City Council Monday night.

The council decided to send a rezoning request from developer Gus Pedemonte back to the commission for more specific information.

Pedemonte has asked for apartment zoning for 21 acres of commercial property on Eastmoor Avenue. The apartment project is to be called Eastmoor Park.

Councilman Francis Pacelli presented a list of six points to be incorporated in any resolution sent to the council on the apartment plan. They are:

The ordinance requirement for one-for-one parking must be maintained, plus two additional guest parking spaces per four-unit apartment.

Alleys shall serve all garage entrances with the exception of those lots on the periphery of the development.

Traffic control must be provided at the intersection of Eastmoor Avenue. Width of the street connecting the area with Eastmoor shall be 80 feet to effect this.

Due consideration should be given to aesthetics so that all the buildings are not designed in the same pattern.

Total numbers of units and size should be specified so that local school districts may anticipate school demands.

To avoid stereotype row arrangements, consideration should be given to a variable setback. A precise set of plans outlining lot coverage, exact floor plans and elevations should be submitted to properly define what is to be built.

The Planning Commission approved the rezoning two weeks ago after Pedemonte presented an artist's conception of the proposed apartments.

Several residents appeared at the meeting to oppose the apartment plan, which calls for 200 buildings with four units each on 25-foot lots.

The property, owned by the (Please See Page 2, Column 5)

D.C. Seaman Praised in Sea Rescue

A Daly City man was credited last week with the rescue of 18 Greek sailors who had abandoned their sinking ship in a Pacific storm.

Carl M. Larkin of 338 First Avenue, commanded a motor boat that picked up the survivors of the Liberian liner Agia Erini. He is chief officer of the American passenger liner President Wilson.

The Greek vessel's captain led the tribute to Larkin at a news conference on arrival at Yokohama, Japan.

"If it had not been for Mr. Larkin's control and seamanship I am afraid we would have had casualties," said Capt. Dimitrios Kastanias.

But the wife of the 38-year-old American officer said she (Please See Page 2, Column 3)

Council Pay Proposal on Coast Ballot

A proposal that Pacifica city councilmen be given monthly salaries will be placed before voters at the April 14 municipal election.

Pacifica councilmen adopted a resolution last week placing a measure on the ballot that for the first time in the city's history councilmen be given $50 a month and the mayor $75 a month.

The action was taken near the end of a lengthy meeting and after former Mayor and Councilman Gerry Schumacher presented a petition containing (Please See Page 2, Column 3) las who emphasized that the district's support did not necessarily mean that the district was in favor of all of the reasons given by Laguna for its proposal.

The San Mateo County Committee on School Reorganization has proposed that the five school jurisdictions in the North County be combined into one district comprising the Jefferson High School District.

This proposal has been opposed by the four elementary boards in the North County and supported by the high school board.

The Jefferson Elementary board has been particularly critical of the proposal.

In its plan, Laguna Salada maintains that two unified districts would meet all the standards of the State Board of Education for the establishment of such districts with one exception—assessed valuation.

Council Pay Vote Slated In Pacifica

45 signatures requesting the proposition on the ballot. Schumacher said with more time he could obtain many other signatures supporting the measure.

Every indication last week pointed to the probability that this year's election will be one of the hottest in the city's history.

One of the symptoms of the atmosphere was a demand from James Telegan of Sea Village Associates that James Fox be ordered to resign his Planning Commission seat.

Telegan accused Fox of improperly making public statements opposing two additional service stations at the corner of Linda Mar Boulevard and Adobe Drive before a public hearing was held and all arguments on both sides were heard.

Telegan currently has two service station applications pending, and Fox had stated publicly and in the press that he does not feel the location is a proper one for such enterprises.

was not surprised at her husband's exploit.

"My husband has always been a capable officer," she said. "He knows his job. That's why I'm not surprised."

The Larkins have lived in Daly City 12 years and have four daughters — Kathleen Ann, 14; Laura, 9; Joan, 7; and Jeannine, 5.

Mrs. Larkin said her husband sailed from San Francisco January 19, his second voyage with the President Wilson.

The Wilson's captain, Joseph Cox, 57, termed the rescue "the most dangerous operation," he had experienced in his 40 years at sea.

Cox said the Wilson and four other ships had responded to the Agia Erin's distress calls and were standing by 600 miles southeast of Tokyo.

Larkin, a seaman of 20 years experience, said there was nothing miraculous about the rescue.

"We worked very hard on the operation. My biggest concern was not to chop up the survivors with the propeller. I had to calculate just when to stop."

Jaycee Award
Date Planned

The Daly City-Colma Junior Chamber of Commerce this week set February 26 as the date of its first annual community service award dinner.

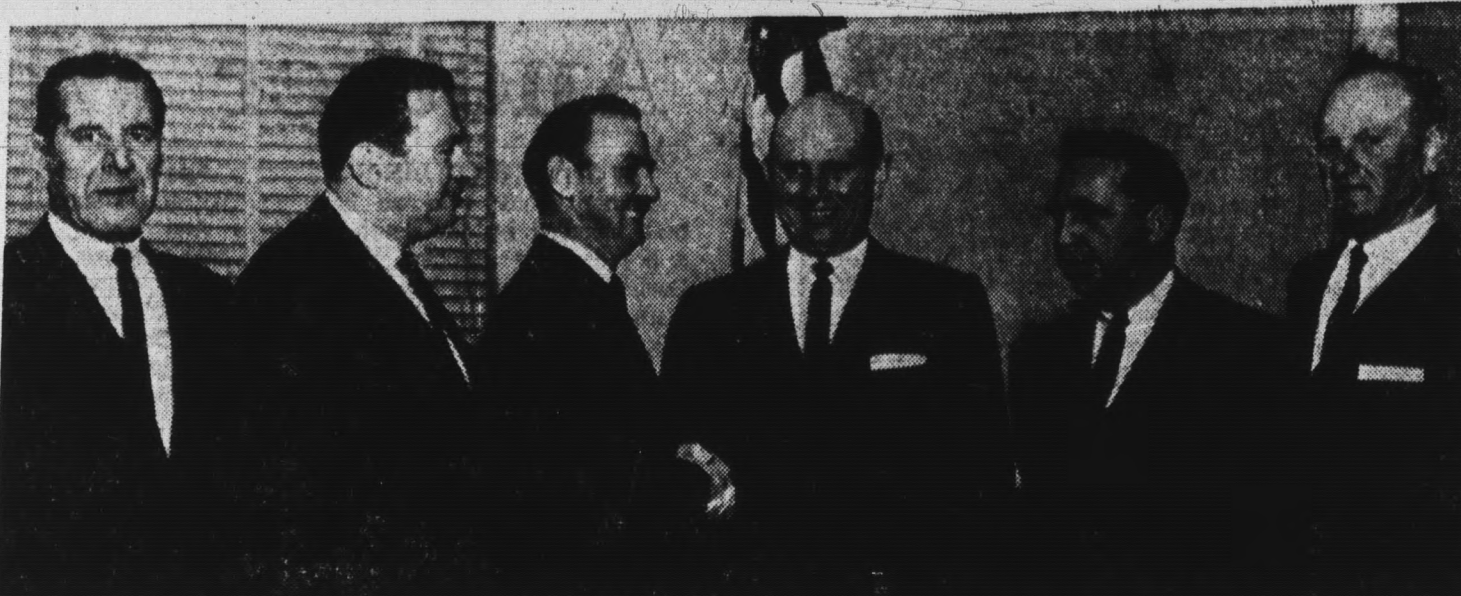

It will be held in the Friar Room of Serra Bowl.

The chamber will honor a young man between the ages of 21 and 35 who has contributed to the community in an outstanding manner.

Nominations for the award should be submitted no later than 9 a.m. Monday to the Chamber, P. O. Box 3127, Daly City. Names also may be submitted by calling Jack Malloy at WY 2-2969.

Chamber officials said a host of civic and community leaders and officers of the district and state Junior Chamber of Commerce have been invited to the dinner.

people rely on the experience of the council."

St. Clair reminded council members that he still will be a businessman in Daly City. One of three liquor stores he owns is located in the Westlake Shopping Center.

"I'll be hurt if you don't call on me for help in that capacity," St. Clair said.

His departure from the council was the second within a month. Former Mayor Joseph Verducci, whose term was due to expire in April, resigned effective January 1 to intensify a campaign for the County Board of Supervisors.

Councilman Albert Polonsky was appointed to complete Verducci's term.

St. Clair had said in September that his move was prompted by "domestic reasons."

He said his family had "outgrown" his Daly City home. He is the father of five children and the couple is expecting a sixth.

At the time of his announcement in September, St. Clair also indicated that it would be his last season on the San Francisco 49er team.

Since then, he has had second thoughts on retirement.

St. Clair said he respected new 49er Coach Jack Christensen and would seriously consider returning to work under him.

During his six years on the council, St. Clair built up a reputation for being outspoken on controversial measures.

Vice Mayor Francis Pacelli summed it up Monday night when he said:

"With Bob, there is no halfway measure—he's either for it or against it. If he's for it, get out of his way. If he's against it, back up."

board and it will not be the last one, that I can assure you."

In other action, the first rough draft of the district's 1964-65 budget was presented to trustees with the observation from District Supt. Edward Morgan that district residents may get a seven-cent reduction in their school tax rate in the coming year.

Morgan explained that because of fluctuations in the district's bonded indebtedness, the tax that had been boosted 10 cents last year may be chopped seven cents in the new fiscal year.

"I see in this announcement no need for screaming, black newspaper headlines," Morgan commented. "This is the normal thing. These rates will fluctuate up and down yearly as the district's indebtedness is increased or decreased."

The budget outlined by Morgan Monday night was the first presentation of its kind ever made to the board, the superintendent noted. He explained: "Generally, the administration pares off items it feels are not in keeping with district policy. But this year we are presenting it to the board exactly as it was received from the various departments."

When Pacelli presented his points, Councilman Bob St. Clair asked if they couldn't be incorporated in a tentative map still before the Planning Commission.

St. Clair said the area has been dormant for many years and has created a lot of problems for residents and city.

In other action the Council:

Approved plans and specifications for street resurfacing. Streets included in the city's older section are in the area bounded by Niantic, Citrus, Knowles Avenues and Mission Street. Geneva Avenue will be resurfaced.

Passed a resolution to be sent to the Defense Department, urging that Hunter's Point Shipyard remain open.

Commended City Electricians Henry Weisner and Ron Ensinger for their work on the water instrumentation system.

Referred to City Engineer William Chapman a request from Thelma Abrahamson of 50 San Joaquin Avenue to increase lot coverage to 75 per cent.

Penny March Totals $2,000

Daly City's annual "march of pennies" Sunday added more than $2,000 to the March of Dimes.

Motorists bought more than 200,000 gallons of gasoline at the city's 23 filling stations. Station operators contributed a penny for each gallon to the March of Dimes.

The figures were announced by Joseph Lewkowitz, chairman of the March of Dimes drive in Daly City this year.

Mrs. McCune told the board that the teachers would be "delighted" with the new proposal.

Foster also added his endorsement, saying that keeping the commitment regarding state moneys was the key factor.

The proposal quickly drew support from other board members and the five per cent salary raise was unanimously adopted.

Later, the board approved the classified teachers' 3.4 per cent pay raise and decided to hold a study session later, this month on raising administrators' (principals, consultants etc.) salaries.

Saleslady Is Beaten By 'Buyer'

A 50-year-old South San Francisco real estate saleswoman was beaten unconscious by a prospective buyer Thursday afternoon in the basement of a house she was showing for sale at 718 Bellevue Avenue in Daly City.

The owner of the house, at home at the time and living on the second floor, was unaware of anything amiss until police arrived later.

Daly City police said there had been no attempt at strangulation and that as far as they could determine there was no link between the bludgeoning and a series of strangulation murders recently in the East Bay.

The victim, Frances Artz of 224B Street, South San Francisco, suffered a severe concussion, a broken right hand and three deep lacerations in the back of her head.

She was given emergency treatment at Junipero Serra Medical Center in Daly City and transferred to St. Joseph's Hospital in San Francisco.

Investigators said the attacker, described as a white male 34 to 40 years old with thick, strong hands, took Mrs. Artz purse and her 1963 model station wagon and abandoned the car — after setting the inside afire — in Sigmund Grove in San Francisco.

The fire completely gutted the interior of the auto, police said.

Mrs. Artz told investigators the bludgeoning occurred after she had been showing homes to the prospective customer for about three hours.

According to Lt. John Walsh and Sgt. Thomas Culley of Daly City police, here is the sequence of events that took place:

The prospective buyer at about 11 a.m. walked into the Aladdin Realty Company at 3998 Mission Street where Mrs. Artz is employed and told her he had just sold his house in Berkeley.

He said he had about $8,000 in cash and wanted to buy another home right away — preferably one that was vacant.

Neither Mrs. Artz nor other sales personnel at the realty firm had ever seen the man before.

Mrs. Artz then took the prospective buyer on a tour of three houses—including the home on Bellevue, which they visited three times.

On the third trip to the Bellevue house, the man asked to see the basement. Mrs. Artz borrowed a key from the owner upstairs, Mrs. Ida Kaufman, and opened the basement.

The man went downstairs. Mrs. Artz returned the key to Mrs. Kaufman and then entered the basement.

While she was showing him around, the man suddenly attacked her with an unknown object. He then fled from the building, leaving Mrs. Artz unconscious on the floor.

Sometime later — police theorize 30 to 45 minutes — Mrs. Artz regained consciousness and staggered from the house.

Outside she was seen by neighbors who summoned help. Police said a barbecue pit shaft and a machete were found in the basement. Tests were to be taken to determine if one of them was used in the attack.

Investigators said that Mrs. Artz had not been sexually assaulted. Regarding a motive, Sgt. Culley theorized that "it looks like someone who just wanted to bash somebody in."

week of an apparent heart attack. He was 62.

Jensen, associated with Olivet or 41 years, was appointed to the executive vice president's post last October. He had been manager of Olivet Memorial Park since 1952 and lived on the property with his family for the past 38 years.

Jensen had followed in the footsteps of his father and grandfather at Olivet. His father, Matrup Jensen was superintendent of the property for 48 years and is responsible for much of the early landscaping of the park.

A native of Ohio, he lived in the Daly City-Colma area for 61 years.

He was a member of Crocker Lodge of Masons in which he served as past master; Islam Temple and San Francisco Lions Club.

He also was president of the Associated Cemeteries of San Francisco and a charter member of the Interment Association of California.

Preview of St. Edmund's

An Unusual Church

AN UNUSUAL modern design (depicted in the architect's sketch above) will be featured in the new St. Edmund's Episcopal Church now under construction in Pacifica.

Bishop James Pike officiated at ground-breaking ceremonies for the church last week. St. Edmund's will be located on Perez drive, adjacent to the First Baptist Church of Linda Mar.

Designed by architect Frederick Whitlesey of San Francisco the church has a complicated roof line-shaped somewhat like a "W"—and four corners presented at angles on the street side. The church and parish hall will be at right angles and there will be a bell tower.

TO BE BUILT in three stages, the church architecture is not extreme but is definitely more modern than traditional, says St. Edmund's pastor, the Rev. John Fredricks.

The first unit, now under construction, will cost $80,000 and will include seven classrooms, a parish hall, office, sacristy and altar.

Services will be held temporarily in the parish hall until the nave of the church is constructed.

IN THE SECOND stage, more classrooms will be added—plus a two story office wing. The main church, or nave, will be added in a third stage.

Father Fredricks said this week he hoped the entire church would be completed in five years but that he personally doubted this would be possible.

Construction costs will rise, he pointed out, and the cost of operating the parish will go up with a larger church.

The buildings will be of stucco. The angled walls that will face the street will be finished in an attractive combination of wood and stucco.

The rear of the church will border San Pedro creek, trees will be retained there and the area landscaped.

THE CHURCH had purchased the first four lots in Willow Brook Estates, a new custom home development just south of the Linda Mar subdivisions. The area was formerly the old Pitto ranch.

St. Edmund's is presently located in a building leased from Holy Cross Lutheran Church at 1160 Seville drive.

New Ruling Issued in Silva Case

A motion by attorneys for Timothy Silva, San Francisco youth held for the murder of a Broadmoor policeman, that they be allowed to examine virtually all of the evidence obtained by the state was argued last week before Superior Court Judge J. A. Branson.

Chief Deputy District Attorney Robert Carey opposed some of the requests of defense counsel Walter Capaccioli and Xenophon Tragoutis and said that he will ask that the prosecution be allowed to see the defense's evidence.

Judge Branson said he will decide the motion at 3 p.m. tomorrow.

Contest for Floral Fiesta

A contest for school students from grades 1 through 12 to "Name the Theme" for the 1964 San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta will be held this year by the fair's board of directors.

Prizes will be a $50 U.S. Savings Bond, plus season admission credentials to the fair for the family.

Fact sheets and sets of rules were distributed to the superintendents of schools throughout the county. Entries must be postmarked no later than February 21.

The theme must be related to the fair in general, or to some phase of it, according to Fair Manager William Wilson. More information may be obtained by calling 345-3541.

Construction May Require School Bonds

The North County's annexation war has left school districts with problems. South San Francisco District Superintendent Dr. Paul Nielsen has been directed to report in March on the possibility of financing school construction with a bond issue.

Trustees estimate five new grade schools, two new junior high schools and one new high school will be needed in their district and in Westborough.

Trustees of the South S. F. Unified District have agreed to share recreational facilities with schools in Westborough. They seek a similar setup with schools in Serramonte, under the jurisdiction of Daly City.

Although the new Skyline subdivision has been annexed to Daly City, most of it is within the South S. F. School District. The rest is in the Jefferson districts.

The South S. F. trustees have discussed site locations in the 916-acre area with Serramonte planner John L. Nordmark and consultants Roy Watanabe and Edwin R. Rowe.

The regular February meeting of the Daly City Library Commission, scheduled for tonight, has been postponed, according to City Librarian Samuel Chandler.

By LE PACINI

WE'VE ALWAYS known that there were places in sports for the little man, but never thought that this axiom would manifest itself in the form of the tall man's game of basketball to the extent it did according to the scoring statistics released last week for our own North Peninsula League.

These statistics showed that SIX of the top ten scorers were guards, EVERY ONE of them under six feet tall. There was only one center among the top ten, and three forwards.

One tends to think of the guard as valuable in the team's scheme of play only as a playmaker, a floor leader, perhaps, a pesky defensive man. But not as a scorer.

Yet stats last week showed that the top two scorers in NPL play were guards, and that guards also held the fifth, eighth, ninth and tenth spots.

Leading point maker was Dave Breazeale, averaging 16.7, Oceana's peppercorn who was a second string NPL selection last year and who vaulted into top spot with a 20-point output to lead his underdog Sharks recently to an upset of South San Francisco. Breazeale, like many other Sharks, originally a Terra Nova transfer, makes the Tigers (to whom he's a special thorn) wish more and more every game that Dave lived further down the coast, in Tiger territory.

RUNNERUP point maker Gary Mendoza of Jefferson (15.3) has an interesting history. He transferred from Westmoor last year, was discovered after a couple of games he was technically ineligible to play. Because of this Jeff forfeited two games which, as it turned out, could have garnered them a close second place finish behind Westmoor.

This year Mendoza settled down to a full season—he's so settled he vaulted into his second spot in scoring with 22 points in the recent close Indian loss to the Ram—and may yet lead Jeff to a title.

Fifth and tenth spots belong to El Camino's sturdy backcourt duo of Walt Harris (12.6) and Randy Willis (10.0). Harris might have been an all leaguer—or close to it—last year had not an early season leg injury left him hobbling the rest of the year. He's now making up for lost time.

Eighth leading scorer is Terra Nova's Henry Dagenais (11.0), the boy of whom we wrote a couple of weeks ago who developed his jump shot artistry by practicing with a borrowed basketball on outside courts.

Westmoor's Mike Hannigan (10.3) is ninth leading scorer. Mike's been accused by some observers of having professional move. Ron Bates, Post-Times reporter who has covered some Westmoor games, swears that he's seen Hannigan make Cousy-moves on more than one occasion.

Some say that Hannigan has the fastest hands and is the best passer in the league. And with all of this he proved himself a scorer in a recent game against Jeff by hitting for 21 counters.

IRONICALLY (except for special circumstances) we don't know of one case among these boys when, because they were "little men," they didn't have to scrap and work twice as hard as the bigger guys, or continually have to prove and reprove themselves.

Had it not been for the division of manpower when Oceana opened and drew from Terra Nova, Dagenais and Breazeale might still be toiling for their respective lightweight teams, never having gotten a shot at the varsity because of their lack of height.

El Camino's being a virtually brand new school beginning with no seniors was probably also the reason for the chances afforded Harris and Willis.

Hannigan played lightweight ball last year and was a bench warmer during the practice season this year. Only his intense desire finally compelled Tony Giamona to give him a full shot.

Mendoza is perhaps the only exception, here. He's never seemed to have been in the background.

We don't know whether six little men will be among the top 10 NPL scorers at season's end, but whatever else happens from here on, the little man has once again proven—at least for this NPL basketball season—that he's a handy guy to have around.

LAST WEEK six more men were inducted into baseball's Hall of Fame. Last year there were four newcomers.

At this rate, Hall of Fame membership will become cheap by the time really great ones such as Ted Williams, Warren Spahn, Stan Musial, Yogi Berra, Mickey Mantle, Willie Mays, etc., enter.

A guy should be more than just "a hulluva ball-player," which seems to be the standard today.

A Hall of Famer should have done something unique, and have done it consistently.

Tinkers, Evers and Chance shouldn't have made the Hall because they were immortalized in poetry, nor should have Dizzy Dean because he was colorful. True, he was the last of the 30-game winners, but he did it only once (Charles "Kid" Nichols did it seven times), and lasted in the majors only a relatively few years because of his tragic injury.

This is not an attack on Dean, Tinkers or Evers or Chance, or any of the others who made it because of certain distinct but certainly not immortal achievements.

It's right that Ruth, with his 714 homers, should have made it. But that certainly shouldn't qualify, for instance, Roger Maris, with his one season shot of 61 roundtrippers.

Cy Young, with 511 victories, belongs, but it would be just as ridiculous to consider, say, Sandy Koufax at this time, as it would be Maris, until they have proven themselves great and compiled other lasting records over a period of years.

They're letting 'em in now if they won over 200 games or had .310 lifetime batting averages—nifty records, to be sure. But not records worthy of baseball immortality.

SUDDEN THOUGHT: We bet that within a few days after Houston's domed stadium is open, some sleepy typographer will have it reading, nationally, "domed stadium"—which might refer to the team, but certainly, we hope, not to the stadium.

After all, we wouldn't want Houston's next manager, old buddy Alvin Dark, getting injured when the stadium collapses on him, would we? Alvin being an ex-local, and all.

Rams Thwart El Camino, 65-63

AFTER S.S.F. UPSET

Colt Rally Is Halted In Thriller

For a while last week, it looked as though the North Peninsula League would have a new undisputed leader but when the week's torrid action had ended, the Westmoor Rams were back at their old stand—in first place.

Last Tuesday, the El Camino Colts pulled into a first place deadlock with the Rams by downing Jefferson, 48-38, while the South San Francisco Warriors were pulling off the upset of the season in nipping Westmoor, 52-51.

With undisputed possession of the league's penthouse at stake, Westmoor and El Camino locked horns at Westmoor Friday afternoon in what turned out to be one of the top thrillers of the season. Westmoor won, 65-63.

The Colts, down by five points going into the fourth period, rallied gamely to knot the count with four minutes remaining.

John Price of the Rams sank a couple of free throws in the final 35 seconds, however, to thwart the Colts and give Westmoor its fourth league victory in five games.

Westmoor had led the Colts by a point at the end of the first quarter and by three at the half.

Price led the game's scorers with 20 points. Breck MacLaren led the Colts with 18 points.

In another thriller Friday, the Oceana Sharks took a 44-33 lead into the final quarter of their game with Jefferson. But the Indians came back with a rush to outscore the Sharks in the final stanza, 17-4, and take home a victory Oceana had all but put in the bag.

Larry Kincaid led the game's shooters with 20 points while Steve Willis and Gary Mendoza paced the Indians with 12 each.

In other action Friday, Terra Nova posted its first victory of the season by upsetting South San Francisco, 62-46.

The Tigers jumped off to a 15-4 lead in the opening quarter and coasted the rest of the way.

Sophomore Greg Jones gave the Warriors their only cause for cheer by dumping in 20 points to pace both teams in the scoring column.

Hank Dagenais led the Tigers with 16 points.

In the Warriors' upset of Westmoor earlier in the week, the Rams rallied late in the final quarter to narrow the margin to three points but Jones sank a free throw and Larry Cervelli saved the game with a layup on a fast break.

The Warriors had led 24-12 at halftime and were still on top by a dozen points going into the final quarter.

In other action last Tuesday, Oceana sank a whopping 21 free tosses and nipped cross-town rival Terra Nova, 47-43.

The Sharks turned back a fourth-period rally to gain victory. Dave Breazeale, the league's leading scorer, paced the Sharks with 21 points.

Post-Times Photographer Howard Frankhouse used a 100-degree wide angle lens and took the picture at f16 at a speed of 250ths of a second. Tigers won the contest, 62-46.

Westlake Bowl

ONCE AGAIN the "good golfer—good bowler" theory has been confirmed, this time by Mac Stewart as he led the Golden Gate Handicap League with a 211 game and 600 series.

In the Southgate Mixed Fives, the Beaumont family took home the honors as Hugh shot his first two hundred game, a 204, and Marge led the ladies with 215-577. Hal Stepanoff topped the men with 205 and 564.

Ora Swanson topped the 600 mark as she led the Ladies' 810 Scratch League with a big 224 game and 602 series.

Twyla Krohn and Nancy Kramer shared top honors in the Tuesday morning YWCA League as Twyla rolled a 200 game and Nancy a 482 series.

Frank Lafrano's 213 game and 608 series gave him bowl-er of the week honors in the Native Sons League.

The Mariners Club will be welcomed to Westlake Saturday night while Sunday morning will find 100 bowlers on hand with the Daly City Eagles hosting a tournament.

Bernice Poulsen had herself a banner day in the St. Emydius Mothers' Club League as she took high game and series with 205 and 464, plus winning a WIBC award for shooting 100 pins over her average.

Spare converters were Lee Rentschler 3-7 and 5-10, Connie Haling 3-10, Barbara Berberian 4-10, Marge Aleo 8-9, Gerry Guisti 8-10 and Beryl McGrath 3-7-10 and 5-7.

Current leaders in the BPAA Men's Handicap Team Tournament are the members of the Tom Collins Plumbing team with a 3080 total. Over 100 teams will be competing in this tournament this week with many cash prizes. Any five league bowlers may form a team to compete.

Andy Divodi rolled a 209 game and 571 series as he posted high game and series in the 805 Scratch League.

THERE WILL be plenty of activity at Westlake in the coming weeks, starting with the opening of the fourth annual Westlake Doubles Tournament Monday, followed by the San Francisco Bowling Association City Tournament team event, February 29; Westlake Junior Easter Classic, March 7 and the Gold Coast Classic, March 14.

Although she missed the 500 mark by two pins, Doris Sailus led the Starliners for the week with 189-498.

There were plenty of two's last Monday night as Bruno Paolucci led the Marche Club League with 222-567 and Sam Haar topped the B'nai B'rith League with 182-522.

The same night in the Canco League, Al Combatalade's favorite number was five as he rolled a 555 series.

Bob Jenkins rolled a 209 game and 553 series to lead the Early Fives for the week.

Mildred Garrett took both high game and high series in the Tea Timers as she rolled 198 and 547.

Serra Bowl

THIS PAST week produced some solid scores in our league action. Here is a run down:

Sunday morning in the Cave-dwellers League, Bob Baci-gelupi came up with 203-550. In the Father and Sons, it was Bob Doyle with 224-564. The Sunday Night Cocktail League had Bob Campion with 202 and Pierce Kious with 548.

It was Al Pierce with 503 and James Foster with 199 in the Madcaps. The Moonlighters Mixed was led by Stuart Capers with 187-496.

Erroll Cran had a nice night with the Comp Fives Monday with 230-568, and in the 813 Scratch, Bob Campodionico was the bomber with 207-579. The Lions were led by Hugh Miller's 207-543, and the Gringo League had Ronald Gray with a tremendous 633 on games of 226-231-176.

Tuesday day leagues showed Marie Kennealy with 158 and Marge Somdahl with 457 for the Morning Glories. The Friarettes were really shooting and the leaders were Gladys Moss with 233 and Dot Michael with 215 and a nice 526 series.

The Domestic Engineers gave way to Ellie Lanza's 222 and a very fine 549 by Millie Welling. In the Serra Starters, it was Judy Mohr with 197-490. The Budget Busters' Lorraine Fazendin came in with 190-493, and it was Flo Dillon for the Holy Angels with 190-462.

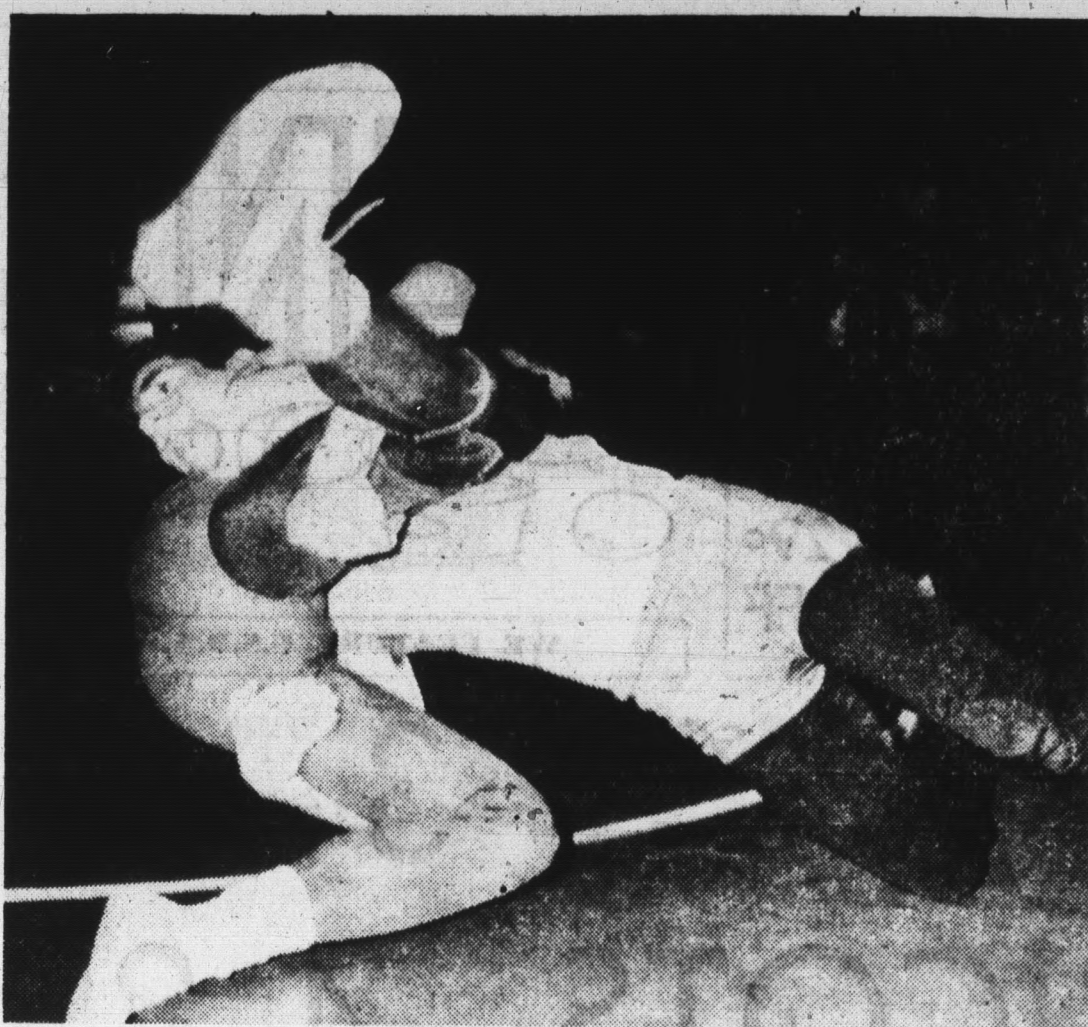

DENNIS CRONIN, a 114 average bowler, took high series for the Major Midgets with 145-175-302, and in the Y. B. A. Invitational group, Steve Guerrettaz banged away games of 232-236-191 for a 649 series. This followed his brother John's performance of the previous week of 179-225-229-633.

Millie's daughter, Dottie Welling, had a terrific day Saturday in the Juniors, shooting games of 177-182-171 for a very fine 530 series. Looks like she is following mother's footsteps.

We are very happy to announce that the San Francisco Dons in the Western All Star League will be using Serra Bowl as home base for the second half of their league and invite all to come out on Sunday nights at 7:30 and enjoy some star bowling.

On Monday, February 24, our Paint 'n' Powder Tournament will be held. Two squads will be going out—one at 10 a.m. and another at 1 p.m. This is a handicap tournament. Come in and get signed up for one of the squads and get back to all.

WARRIOR BOB BAPTISTE tries to upend Westmoor's Flip Reade in the championship match in the 154-pound class of the North Peninsula League Wrestling tournament at South San Francisco Friday. Warriors Dominate Meet, Take NPL Wrestling Title

The South San Francisco Warriors dominated seven of 13 championship matches to take top honors in the North Peninsula League Wrestling Tournament Friday in the South San Francisco gym.

On the basis of their strong showing in the tournament and their 5-0 record in dual match competition, the Warriors won the NPL wrestling title. The Warriors scored 88 points in the tourney.

The standings are determined on the basis of one point for a dual match win and the award of three, two and one points for the first, second and third teams in the tournament, respectively.

Westmoor gained 75 points and a second place in the tourney to earn a tie for second with Oceana in the league standings. El Camino, Terra Nova and Jefferson finished fourth, fifth and sixth respectively.

Warriors Ben Barrientos, Bruce Carso, Bill Sota and Ron Davis defeated their opponents in the final matches to pace the win. Barrientos, Carso and Davis were undefeated in league competition.

Bob Baptiste, Jack Verducci and Tom Weber had to be content with second place in their respective weight classes. Their victors, however, were also undefeated throughout the season.

Westmoor's Flip Reade and Dan Hartman downed Baptiste and Weber and El Camino's Wayne Caton defeated Verducci.

Six Rams were in the championship matches. Besides Reade and Hartman, Ken Brice kept his record unblemished by downing El Camino's Ernie Tressetti. Taking second places were Walt Malik, Dan Blondell and Dick Thill.

Oceana, which finished third in the tournament with 60 points, had two champions—Bob Pereira in the 145-pound class and Bill Smith in the 133-pound class. Both were undefeated in league matches.

Terra Nova lightweight Rafael Perez and Clark Beckstead dropped down one weight bracket each. Perez and Clark Beckstead dropped down one weight bracket and wound up with victories over Westmoor's Thill and Oceana's Dick West.

Perez had an over-all record of 10 wins and one loss during the season, the loss coming at the hands of West in the higher weight bracket.

Beckstead, who had taken the 95-pound championship last

Jeff Growth Slows

By RON BATES

THE STUDENT population in the Jefferson Elementary School district last year reached a temporary plateau of growth as a major building program continued, according to an independent auditor's report accepted by the district's Board of Trustees.

The district's 20 schools experienced an increase of only 125 students last year, the report stated, bringing the average daily attendance to 9,033. This compares with increases of 3,446 and 743 in the 1960-61 and 1961-62 school years, respectively.

But, according to Assistant Superintendent of Schools Dr. David Shapiro, the leveling off is just a temporary situation. There are several more potential growth areas in Daly City still to be developed within the district.

THE SERRAMONTE development, formerly known as the Christen Ranch, is expected to house an estimated 21,000 persons. The Jefferson district will be extended to Hickey Boulevard taking about half of the development.

Another area of growth is the property, owned by the Doelger corporation, which is involved in a land trade between Daly City and Pacifica. The land surrounds the Franklin Delano Roosevelt School and is between the Edgemoor Freeway and the Ocean.

A third area of growth, cited by Shapiro, are the Crocker lands to the west of Daly City.

Other possibility of growth include Eastmoor Park, an 800-unit apartment project planned by developer Gus Pedemonte on property adjacent to Westmoor High School, and the potential sale and development of the Lake Merced Golf course.

THE REPORT, prepared by Warren G. LeFort, said the district had spent more than $1.2-million for new sites, buildings and improvements last year.

Major construction projects included the new Franklin D. Roosevelt School and two six-classroom additions, together with locker and shower rooms at Ben Franklin and Colma Junior High Schools.

The district also purchased land for additions to the Woodrow Wilson School and for a new school, called the John Fitzgerald Kennedy School, in the Crocker Estates.

The report also noted that the district's tax rate, $3.15, was two cents lower than last year's, despite a first-time levy for education of the mentally retarded.

Shapiro, in explaining the report, noted that the district has a remaining borrowing capacity of $7-million.

IN 1961, the voters authorized the board of trustees to accept and expand an apportionment not to exceed $7-million. The district was also authorized to issue $2.8-million in bonds.

To date, the district has only sold $488,000 of the bonds and has accepted $1,215,000 in state aid, Shapiro said.

Using the auditor's figures, Shapiro pointed out that the cost of providing education was shifting more and more to the local taxpayer.

During 1961-62 the state paid $195 per student and the local taxpayers paid $220 in taxes per student. Last year, the state paid $193 and the local taxpayers paid $237.

The cost of educating one child has risen from $370 a year to $409.

"That $409 is the second lowest in the county," Shapiro said, "but we think we're running the best program."

Laguna Salada is the lowest.

THE DISTRICT had to borrow funds from the county for the first time in its history to start the school year, Shapiro said. The surplus of the district had been almost depleted.

Jefferson has a staff payroll of approximately $280,000 a month and the district tries to start the year with at least $250,000 in the bank, Shapiro said.

One unique thing the report noted is the method of recording bills for the district. The business office "freezes" or sets aside funds for bills that will come due later. The district is not liable for the money until the bill is sent.

"This method is to get a truer picture of our financial setup," Shapiro explained. "It will prevent a misinterpretation of our assets in the general fund, particularly in pay negotiations."

PACIFICA REQUEST

Add Police, Fire Forces—Minshaw

Special consideration should be given to increasing Pacifica police and fire departments this year, Councilman Harland Minshaw urged at city council meeting last week. He declared: "Let's face it, they're undermanned."

Concurring with Minshaw, Councilman Fred Ballew also stated that an increase in both police and fire forces "appears mandatory" over and above the need for manning the new Fairmont firehouse.

The council requested city manager Karl Baldwin to give priority to requests from these departments in drawing up the city's annual budget for presentation to the council.

Minshaw urged if necessary, that other departments hold back on requests for additional personnel so that police and fire protection can be expanded for the "health and safety of the community."

Fire Chief Edwin Greer said this week he would ask in July for six new men to be added to the department.

He said he would need a minimum of six men—two men on duty at all times—to staff the Fairmont firehouse.

Greer said he didn't think the firehouse would be built for a year or more but that the men should be hired, trained and have some experience before being assigned to staff it.

Police chief Neil Tremaine said he hadn't decided how many new men he would ask for but that he was certain he would request an increase in his force. One new patrolman was added last year.

City Manager Karl Baldwin recently submitted a schedule to the council for this year's city budget preparation, which would call for the Personnel Board to begin hearings at the end of this month and the city manager to submit a tentative budget to the council May 20.

Youths Jailed In Pacifica

Four youths were arrested Friday night in a street disturbance in the Westview section of Pacifica involving some 20 young people.

Police said boys and girls were milling in the street near Heathcliff and Loman with beer in their possession. The cause of the disturbance was unknown.

Charged with disturbing the peace and jailed in South San Francisco were Michael C. Hampton, 20, 319 Minna Lane; Jerry W. Ledbetter, 21, Alameda Naval Supply Depot; Eugene M. Hesketh, 21, 327 Heathcliff; and Jack E. Arterburn, 18, 585 Skyline, Daly City.

Arterburn was also charged with resisting arrest and assault of an officer.

BEFORE FULL HOUSE

Verducci Launches Vote Campaign

An overflow crowd of 600 well-wishers jammed the Villa Hotel in San Mateo Thursday night to pay their respects to Former Daly City Mayor Joseph Verducci as he formally launched his campaign for supervisor from San Mateo County's Fifth District.

So large was the crowd that the hotel was forced to set up additional tables in the lounge adjoining the banquet room and eventually move some 35 guests upstairs to the main dining room.

Visitors came from many walks of life and from as far away as Chicago. They include football great Clark Shaughnessy, and former San Francisco mayor George Christopher.

Shaughnessy declined a seat at the head table, saying he wanted to be "just one of Joe's friends here to pay his respects." But he added:

"Joe Verducci is a great leader. I know of no one in whom I would put more trust or confidence to accomplish any worthwhile task he undertook."

Christopher, who was an impromptu speaker, pointed out that he was "here as a simple citizen to honor Joe," but stressed the importance of effective leadership in relations between the Bay Area counties.

"People to the north and south will be influenced by decisions made here," he said, adding that Verducci has "the necessary understanding, patience and ability to make decisions needed by the big-minded men who must work with other area leaders."

Paul Hupf, city attorney for Daly City and master of ceremonies for the dinner, read excerpts from a number of letters received from citizen leaders unable to attend.

Among them was a letter from Robert Gordon Sproul, president emeritus of the University of California, who wrote:

"So great is my confidence in him that, if I could afford to do so, I should be strongly moved to change my residence in order to vote for Joe as a supervisor of San Mateo County."

Other letters came from officials of the League of California Cities, San Francisco State College faculty—even former students.

Verducci did not outline his platform in detail, but emphasized that he has made intensive studies of what he considers the issues involved in the campaign.

He listed these issues as mass transportation, the improvement of streets and highways, flood control, youth and recreation, airport development, law enforcement and rehabilitation, public health, care of aged, education and vocational training and human relations.

Damage Set at $8000 In S.S.F. House Fire

A fire raced through a South San Francisco house Wednesday afternoon, causing concern for neighboring buildings until contained by firemen.

Damage was estimated at $8,000.

Assistant Chief A. R. Brauns said the cause of the 1:34 p.m. blaze at 244 Village way was not immediately determined.

He said it was reported that no one was in the home at the time, but that the blaze started in the basement garage area. "The building was well involved on our arrival," he said, "and threatened several other homes in that area which are built wall-to-wall in the San Francisco fashion."

The house is rented, he said, by Dave Stittsworth and Don England, from an owner in Hali Moon Bay.

Neither England nor Stittsworth was at home although two motorcycles were in the garage.

Battalion Chief John Drago was injured when he stepped on a nail which ran through his boot into his toe, and Captain Don Nelson twisted his ankle.

S.S.F. Wins Award for Clean-up Campaign

South San Francisco has really cleaned up this past year, and has the award to prove it. In Washington, D. C., it was announced last week that South San Francisco has won an achievement award from the National Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up Bureau.

The award recognizes South San Francisco as one of the nation's top clean-up cities, of its population.

Other California winners were Pomona and San Diego.

Announced by R. H. Hackendahl, director of the bureau, the award praises accomplishments of youth groups including Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, and students.

The youth program was cited as an outstanding example of juvenile decency in action.

Operation Shipshape Chairman Nick Manuel and Mayor Patrick Ahern were invited to a reception honoring representatives of all winning cities.

Also invited were Congressman J. Arthur Younger, and California Senators Clair Elmer and Thomas Kuchel.

Oddstad Wills Wife Estate

The will of Andres (Andy) F. Oddstad, a prominent Peninsula real estate developer who died in Fresno January 22 of injuries suffered in a traffic accident, was filed for probate in superior court last week.

Friday, February 14, is Valentine's Day.

COMMENT

College Bonds Need 'Yes' Vote

THE POST recommends to its readers, and to all the voters in the San Mateo Junior College District, that they vote "Yes" on the $12,800,000 bond issue that will be placed before them on March 24.

This recommendation is based upon two certainties. The first is that the people within the district will refuse to slam the door in the faces of increasing thousands of our own high school graduates who are in confident expectation of going on to college training. The second certainly is that if the voters do not approve this bond issue now they will eventually be forced to approve a much-larger bond issue later.

THERE IS simply no dodging the fact that thousands of the children now in our elementary and high schools will not be able to go on to college as they graduate if there are no college facilities to receive them. The present capacity of the College of San Mateo is 6,500. By the fall of 1964 it must take an enrollment of 7,200 — 700 more students than can be crammed in. By 1971 the influx will have accelerated to 10,000 students with no place for 4,500 of them.

If you want to make a simple experiment of your own, place a two-gallon pail in the kitchen sink. Then pour in it four gallons of water representing the number of students in 1974. Half the water, or the students, must go down the drain.

The bond issue before the district voters on March 24 represents the minimum amount, when coupled with available funds, that will permit carrying out the established master plan developed by a Citizens' Committee in 1956-57 and revised as the tidal wave of school enrollments swept upward to more than double original estimates.

Specifically, these funds are needed for the urgent addition of sufficient classrooms to bring the College Heights campus to its maximum capacity of 8,000 day students, to pay the amount still owing on a south county campus site, to purchase a coastside site, and to construct the initial classrooms and facilities needed to place the north and south county branches of the college in operation.

THE PROSPECT of obtaining a state college within the county will not affect the need or the obligation of the Junior College District. The functions of these four-year state colleges are not consonant with those of the junior colleges and, in any event, the people of the district cannot afford to gamble on the chances of getting a state college here.

If the issue is not passed, one out of every two children in kindergarten right now will be turned away from the college doors when they march up with their high school diplomas.

This is why The Post recommends to its readers that they vote "Yes" on this bond issue and do everything they can to see that it gets the necessary two-thirds majority vote. The whole thing will cost far less now than later and the job must be done.

North County Notebook

It Was a Wide Grin

Ron Bates

DALY CITY MAYOR Micheal DeBernardi wore a smile that stretched from ear to ear at the recent San Mateo County Council of Mayors meeting at the Villa Chartier in San Mateo. His smile was an "I-told-you-so" look as Ken Norris, executive director of the Government Research Council, lambasted the mayors on their purchasing policies.

Norris was making some very good points about waste of the taxpayers' money. He said that a lot of money could be saved by eliminating duplication of effort in purchasing in the 17 cities of the county.

A similar proposal had been made by DeBernardi to the North County Council of Cities just a few weeks prior and he was overwhelmingly voted down by the six other member cities.

It was unfortunate that of those six, the mayors or vice mayors of three of them—Pacifica, South San Francisco and Burlingame—missed the mayors' meeting and the benefit of Norris' remarks.

Burlingame was one of the most vociferous for keeping the purchasing powers, particularly over automobiles, within the city domain. Pacifica, meanwhile, has a continuing "Buy Pacifica" campaign.

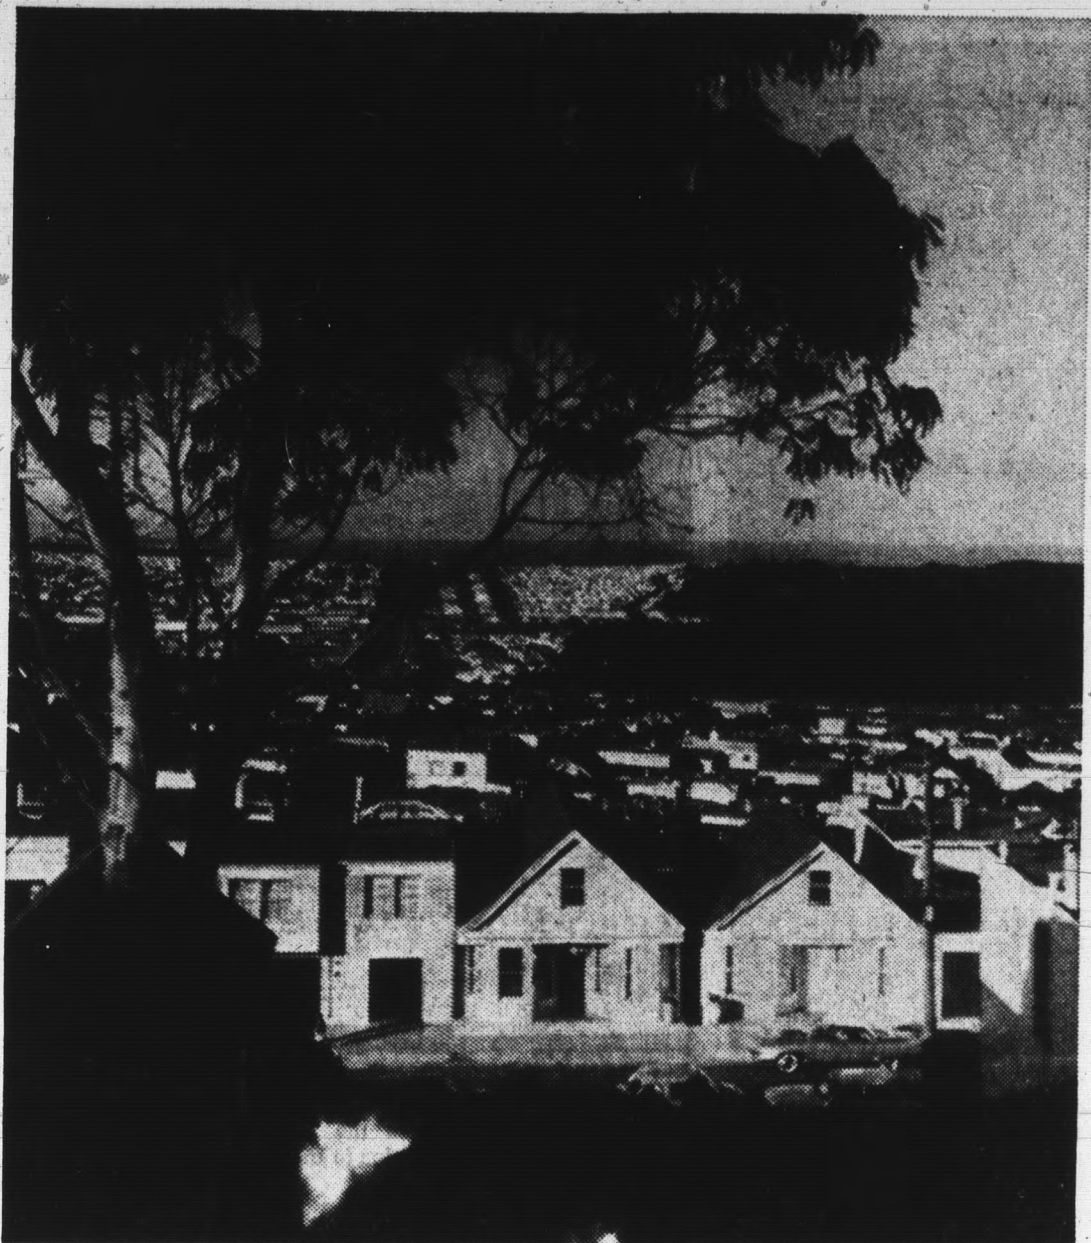

Money is money! It seems to me there is no difference whether the money going into the city coffers comes from tax savings by central purchasing or from local sales taxes. Certainly no businessman is entirely dependent on city government trade and this trade often is merely gravy on the potatoes.

A full exploration of central purchasing may produce some startling facts. I heard a speech recently on government waste. One of the facts brought out by the speaker was that if the Army, Navy, Marines and Air Force all bought a standard 12-cent silver-plated buckle, the annual savings to the federal government would be approximately $4 million. Makes you think, doesn't it?

IN THE QUESTION and answer period that followed Norris' talk, the mayors tried to bend the Research Council's accusing-finger away from the cities and toward the schools, which take a much bigger bite of the tax dollars.

The mayors, one by one, had taken off on tangents with their pet ideas of how to cut school taxes down when Menlo Park Mayor William Lawson finally got up. Lawson, who looks like one of those sage silver-haired judges you read about, observed:

"You know what this reminds me of—Aesop's fable about the mice who complained about the cat. They got together and decided that someone had to tie a bell around the cat's neck. The question was—who?"

BOOKS

THE CADILLAC COWBOYS. By Glendon Swarthout. Random. $4.95.

Pull your $400 deck chair up to the edge of the $40,000 swimming pool, podner, and latch on to a mess of modern Western guff from the breezy insouciance of desert Arizona.

This Swarthout has written a raunchy, side-of-the-mouth thing like you might like to hear over the murmur of an air-conditioned bar out in the wide open spaces, where nowadays men are spurred and spurred.

There is a joker named H. Carleton Cadell, an Easterner who makes like a history professor. The trick is that he has married a widow saturated with money; they gallop off in their white Bentley to the frontier sands, to escape effete Western ditto.

So our barfly pal Cadell gets tangled up with a 12-gallon cowboy, Eddie Bud Boyd, right there in the glaring Arizona sunset of federal subsidies, dusty dogies and early American schmalz.

It seems this horseless, broad-shouldered Boyd is a commission salesman who recently has made $720,000 on a rising cattle market, which explains his adventurous marriage to a barefoot creature from Utah and his desire for the prodigal-type swimming pool.

The only trouble is that podner Boyd, a naive innocent, gets clobbered by (a) Eastern promoters who have invaded our heroic Western wastelands, (b) a falling beef market and (c) an educated Indian. Which busts brother Boyd and maims his friend Cadell.

Podner, this Swarthout is a real East-West sharp, a Madison Avenue wrangler.

An Enchanting 'Sound of Music'

Barbara Bladen

LOVE AND "Sound of Music" are better the second time around, to paraphrase a popular song. It's like seeing a show for the first time while vaguely remembering having seen a similar show years before.

The cavernous Opera House stage put numerous strikes against the show when it played there originally. Now at the more accessible and audible Curran Theater, the final Rodgers and Hammerstein collaboration is a joyous, enchanting show.

The melodious musical has an absorbing book and outstanding score that lends itself easily to a variety of interpretations.

The leading role of a young postulate nun, Maria, whose inherent vivacity temporarily disqualifies her from her calling, was so originated by Mary Martin, succeeded by Florence Henderson and Martha Wright, and is currently being given a lively interpretation by Barbara Meister.

VISUALLY and vocally attractive, Miss Meister sings effortlessly and with excellent tone but she lacks the simplicity and piety called for in the role. There is too much kittenishness and musical comedy mannerisms in her early scenes.

She gains composure when she realizes her love for the captain and must decide on an escape plan from the Nazi.

John van Dreelen is effective as the stolid father of seven who rules his house by a navy rule book. He should grey his temples for age but otherwise conducts himself with dignity and reserve.

The stars of any "Sound of Music" company are always the children and the Sherwood Family singers playing Trapp family children with Ethelene Dunfee, Vincent Alexander and John Messenger are delightful enough to win any popularity poll.

Jen Nelson continues to play the wealthy widow Elsa Schraeder who loses the handsome Austrian captain Von Trapp to the less sophisticated Maria.

Her worldly and somewhat cynical portrayal has served the play well through several different companies.

The Architect Is a Diplomat

Don Miller

MARIO CIAMPI, the distinguished Bay Area architect whose talents are manifested in striking fashion in the design of a number of North County schools — notably Oceana High School in Pacifica and Westmoor High School in Daly City, is a gentleman not only of architecture but of diplomacy.

In fact, judging from the tactful presentation he made the other day before the Jefferson Elementary School District's board of trustees, we'd venture to predict he'd make a first rate ambassador.

Ciampi had been invited to appear before the board to explain why he had billed the district a higher fee than usual for designing the overpass for pupils that bridges Lake Merced Boulevard, just north of Alemany Boulevard.

The overpass cost $40,000 and the original fee for architectural services was to have been $3,200. Ciampi billed the district for $7,150, which, he said, represented his firm's final costs.

He explained the location of the overpass had been changed several times and that extra costs associated with new designs each time the location was changed necessitated a higher fee.

And he added that he believed that a clause in his contract with the district covered the higher fee.

NOW IT WASN'T Ciampi's explanation of the higher fee that caught our attention—although what he said seemed completely logical and reasonable.

It was the way he went about it that deserved some sort of medal for demonstrating the art of good manners and tact in masterful fashion.

Ciampi opened his remarks with this pleasant greeting:

"It's nice to see you all again." And then he added soberly: "In all these years, I've never had to go into the subject of fees."

There was a trace of squirming among some board members at this.

Ciampi then went into his explanation of the bill he had submitted and wound up by observing quietly:

"I'm not here making an unfair demand. I've been designing schools here for 12 years. I'd suggest the whole thing be referred to the district attorney." And then he graciously added this declaration that gained him a bushel of points:

"In any event, I'll be guided by whatever your pleasure in this matter is."

AT THIS POINT, Schools Superintendent Richard T. Foster informed the board that the district attorney's office had issued a verbal opinion that there were "no grounds" for Ciampi's higher fee.

This produced a rather embarrassed silence before Trustee O. Wayne Douglas carefully noted: "I guess what the district attorney is saying is that if we go ahead and pay Mr. Ciampi, we'll be illegally spending public funds."

Douglas added that "I am very happy and pleased with Mr. Ciampi's services — particularly with the overpass, which is a devilish thing to design and build." He suggested that the board and Ciampi go back to the district attorney and reach an understanding that would be mutually desirable.

This Ciampi endorsed heartily and then with a broad grin, played his best diplomatic card by concluding:

"I wouldn't want to accept a gift of public funds. And I defend your position wholeheartedly."

And with that, Mario Ciampi, architect and diplomat, departed the scene.

DALY CITY'S well-known and oft-joked about birth rate has become an international topic. Or so it seems if, by chance, you've been reading the British press lately.

Mrs. Jacob Bromley of 1480 South Mayfair Avenue, a resident of England until she moved here seven years ago, has a sister in London who HAS been reading and she sent Mrs. Bromley a rather remarkable clipping.

It's an article from a London newspaper with one-inch headlines that proclaim: "Baby Boom Town." It's about Daly City (couldn't you guess) and we found some of the verbiage so entertaining that we thought we'd pass some of it on to you.

The crux of the article is that a veritable bandwagon of couples who have no children have been flocking to Daly City (news to us) but that there is nothing special in the city's air, contributing to a high birth rate (no news to us).

Among the more intriguing explanations for the birth rate are these noteworthy quotes: Psychologist Margaret Steger: "Tell a community that its birth rate is high and from that moment on, it is only natural for couples to try to better the record. People become baby conscious."

San Francisco State College football coach Vic Rowan: "Sometimes that fog is so thick for a week running that no one can possibly leave their homes in the evening."

All right, the psychological bit sounds plausible but the fog we won't buy. After all, as any loyal chamber of commerce member will tell you, there isn't THAT much fog in Daly City.

Peninsula Panorama

Determination And Our Women

George Whitesell

A WAGGISH acquaintance of this department claims that Peninsula women have great powers of concentration and single-mindedness of purpose.

He says that when they want something they go after it either directly or deviously, and when launched on some course of household action they pursue it with grim determination.

As proof of this he declares that they usually get what they want and accomplish what they have started out to do.

The only flaw in this compliment to firmness of our femininity is that he says they want some very peculiar things and pursue some oddly erratic courses.

As men will, he cites his own wife as an example.

He says the good woman once decided that she wanted a fireplace in her living room and that this was a patently impossible desire because they lived on the second floor of a five-story apartment building.

After long concentration on this problem she announced that she had found a dummy fireplace with an electric imitation blaze in a local department store. The only difficulty with this was that there was no place in the room to place this compromise solution and she had to seek another way of getting her desire.

And she found one. They moved out of the apartment and bought a house with a fireplace in the living room—really very simple and only cost something in excess of $40,000.

ON ANOTHER occasion, he recounts, a grandson gave her a pink plastic bracelet which he had purchased out of a 50 cents per week allowance without any undue privation. She was so pleased with the gift, however, that she decided she needed a matching blouse to wear with the bracelet.

After two weeks of industrious shopping she found a pink blouse of exactly the right shade. She also found a skirt, a dress, a coat, a hat, a purse, and gloves that went very well with the bracelet.

And, he added with a grin, "Do I take a ribbing?—I am the only guy in my company who drives a pink sedan to work."

THEN HE told us about his daughter-in-law. She is an energetic young woman who, on one fateful morning, began to paint a hard-used high chair.

When completed the high chair looked so much better than the breakfast table and chairs that she promptly painted them also.

This made the kitchen look shabby, so she painted the kitchen, then the bathroom, and, finally, the whole interior of her house.

When she reached the finishing point she gave away the high-chair that started the whole thing. Said she was "sick of the sight of it." Her father-in-law chuckled gently, "—and now she needs another high-chair, twin-size."

HIS FINAL testimony was about a neighbor lady whose family consists of herself, her husband, and four sons ranging in age from 12 to 17.

She sort of worked herself into a lather over the price of haircuts after a little impromptu arithmetic disclosed that the barbers were trimming her budget.

She was particularly sore about her husband who is bald and doesn't have as much fringe around the top as a surfer.

So she bought a barbering kit and announced she was in business on the back porch every Saturday.

After six months her husband still complains bitterly, but the project was an immediate success with the teen-age sons.

It appears that in their social circles a haircut of freakish originality is considered a mark of beauty if not a joy forever.

Far from being embarrassed, they have admiring friends who want "one of your mother's crazy haircuts." But she has refused to go commercial.

"I don't know just what this proves," said our acquaintance, "but I do know that now she goes to the beauty parlor every week with my wife to get her own hair done."

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

TOMORROW is the Chinese New Year and the next day is Valentine's Day which gives us two good reasons to bake something special. Since the Chinese New Year is first, we will concentrate on a goodie for that day (and for a few days following as this makes a large number of cookies). These are the sesame cookies one finds in Chinese restaurants.

SESAME COOKIES

- 1 1/4 cups sugar
- 1 1/4 cups lard
- 1 egg
- 4 cups flour
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt

Cream together the lard and sugar. Add the egg and mix thoroughly. Sift the flour, baking powder and salt together and work into the creamed mixture.

Knead thoroughly. Break off small pieces and form them into smooth balls. Then roll in sesame seeds. Bake on cookie sheet one inch apart in 350-degree oven for about 15 minutes.

MY SECOND recipe is very special, indeed, and perfect for St. Valentine's Day. It is red velvet cake. It was given to me by Mrs. Rena Norero of 23 Westdale Avenue, Daly City. And I'll let her tell you about it herself:

"The story behind this Red Velvet cake is both interesting and expensive. It seems that a woman from Seattle was dining at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York and was deeply impressed with the cake served to her one evening. It looked like red velvet with the beautiful white frosting.

She asked the hotel people if they would send her the recipe. They did but it arrived C.O.D. with a charge of $300. She paid the cost and then consulted her lawyer who told her she could do nothing to get her money back. Since the price of the recipe had been so costly to her, she decided all her friends should enjoy baking and eating this luscious and extravagant Red Velvet Cake."

- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1 1/2 cup sugar

RED VELVET CAKE

- 2 eggs
- 2 teaspoons cocoa
- 2 ounces red food coloring (that's right, that's two one-ounce bottles)
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
- 1 cup buttermilk
- 1 1/2 teaspoons vinegar
- 1 teaspoon soda, level

Cream shortening, sugar and eggs. Make a paste with cocoa and food coloring and add to the creamed mixture. Mix salt and vanilla with buttermilk and add alternately with the flour to the cream mixture. Do not beat. Bake in two pans, nine inches in diameter, that have been greased and floured. Bake 30 minutes at 350 degrees.

FROSTING

- 5 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 1 cup butter
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Cook flour and milk until thick, stirring constantly. Let cool until cold. Cream together sugar, butter and vanilla. Add to the cold flour mixture. Beat until the consistency to spread. When finished, it looks like whipped cream . . . but until then it is curdy.

Double Reminder: The two ounces of food coloring is the correct amount and this is the reason for the color and texture of red velvet.

WELL THERE it is girls! Just as Rena sent it to me. Judging by the response we got last year when we printed this recipe, I know it will be just as much of a favorite with you as it is with me.

Make it just as it is described in the recipe, carefully folding in the bubbling vinegar and soda mixture. It took mine a little longer to bake, but I have an oven that pouts and sulks at times.

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

FATHERS, as a group, are sometimes prone to feel their ten-age offspring don't really appreciate them. And, with the busy lives most youngsters lead today, it is very possible that father's efforts on behalf of his family may not always be accorded all the appropriate attention.

Hence, fathers everywhere may find it refreshing to know that the girls of Skyline Assembly 208, Order of Rainbow, are singing loud praises to Arthur Heulse and his committee of fathers who have labored long and hard to prepare staging, props and lighting for the forthcoming Blossoms of Spring Fashion Show.

The show, which will be presented Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in the Crocker Masonic Temple, required trellises, a fashion runway and a host of lesser props — all of which the fathers, equipped with hammers, saws and paint brushes, have turned out in record time. Even the special lighting effects that will be used have been worked out by the talented gentlemen.

Reservations for the show, which will feature clothing from the King's Campus Shops in San Francisco, are still available and may be arranged by telephoning Trudy Josselyn at PL 5-7595.

Special entertainment to be presented along with the fashions will include piano selections by Carolyn Hoover and songs by soprano Virginia LaChance. Organ music during the show will be provided by Mrs. Pierre Ettlinger. Mona Baker will narrate.

Modeling the latest in spring attire will be Worthy Adviser Eugenia Murphy, Susan Snyder, Mary Mirkle, Carol Vanham, Dorothy Gechel, Dolores Wise, Nancy Jarvis, Pam Moss, Lisa Church, Barbara Saunderman, Sharon Ellington, Pat Woodman, Donna Neugebauer, Diane Ames, Carol Hilton and Pat Paspras. Two little lasses will be surprise models.

Word was received this week that the leprechauns are working overtime in Burlingame to help members of the Mercy Shield to make their traditional St. Patrick's Day luncheon-fashion show a truly Gaelic affair.

The Crystal ballroom of the Thunderbird Motel in Millbrae will be transformed into a wee bit of the Emerald Isle when "Taispeantas Faisean," or the Mercy Showing of Fashion, will be presented. Spring clothes from City of Paris in San Mateo will be previewed and Fashion Co-ordinator Lise Boissiere will handle the commentary, according to Mrs. J. A. Brown, Shield president.

Mrs. Trnold C. Avitabile and Mrs. John Kelleher are in charge of reservations and will begin accepting orders Monday from 8:30 a.m. until 3 p.m. in the auditorium of Mercy High School in Burlingame. Reservations also will be accepted before, during or after a Shield meeting Wednesday, February 26.

Others busily involved in preparing for the show are Mrs. Frank Alioto, decorations chairman; Mrs. George McConnell, door prizes; Mrs. Mary Jo Donahoe, hostesses; Mrs. John Barber, O. J. Olsen, and Mrs. Al Waskowiak, in charge of investment; Mrs. William Whelan, models; Mrs. Thomas Tallon, programs; Mrs. O. Walter Mignault, publicity director; Mrs. Stephen Ferko, sponsors; Mrs. Carol Flynn, Mrs. John Spaulding, and Mrs. Andrew L. Waechter, who will be in charge of sundries.

Additional information may be obtained by calling 343-9240 or JU 3-1186 after Monday.

THE MISSIONARY Circle of Court St. Mary No. 1155, Catholic Daughters of America, will meet Friday night in the Los Banos drive home of Mrs. James McClung.

Mrs. James Gallagher will be in charge and all members of the Court are invited to attend. For additional information, members may call Mrs. Harvey Mumford, PL 5-4802.

THE BETA SIGMA chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha will hold its rushing party in the Walter Miskerman home in Daly City tonight.

Chapter President Lois Orente and Vice President Margo Burpee are in charge of the evening's program.

Teenager Asks...

By JOE BAVARESCO

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:
I am a parent of a teen-age boy and girl. It is a real hand-ful but there is so much I don't understand. Explain, please, The Beatles: who are they and why are they so popu-lar? As a parent, I find it difficult to understand what is so hot about those ugly boys. Educate us parents. What do you think of them?

A Non Beatle Fan.
Dear Non Beatle Fan:
Strangely enough, there are a lot of teen-agers who feel the same way you do. I have done a little checking and interview-ing. It sums up this way:
On the East Coast, there are a group of not very sophis-ticated teen-agers who find these boys appealing for no other rea-son than they are different. Teen-agers must have some idol. Each era has had theirs. Yours was probably Frank Si-natra or anyone who was the rage because it was the thing to do.

Not so long ago, it was Elvis Presley, who is now on the boat to oblivion. On the West Coast, the teen-agers have a lot more class and you'll find they don't go for those boys who are so desperately in need of a haircut. You'd think, with all the money they are bringing in, they could afford a haircut.

As for their popularity on the West Coast, the teen-agers here are a little more choosy about the talent they like, so they are not the rage the press agents would like people to assume.

As for what I think, I feel that they have the world's greatest press agent, because who else could take four of the home-liest no-talents and make them the talk of the Western world.

After seeing them in action Sunday night, I'm convinced the public is being gaffe fools of it. It seems to me it takes more than just letting your hair grow and making awful sounds (that are so far off key that it pains me) to be called talented. I be-lieve that comparing them to people in show business is like comparing four hog callers who can't scrape up the money for a haircut, to the great Caruso.

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:
We are having an exchange meeting with a group of boys. They are going to attend one of our meetings and we are going to attend one of theirs. This meeting will be at my home.

We only know these boys from school but not well enough to have a party with them. What is a good way to start mixing? We are very nervous about it, we want to make it a success.

We have to rule out dancing because it is supposed to be an exchange of ideas. What do we do?

To get any discussion going you first must choose a mod-erator—a girl who knows how to express herself well. As the boys enter the room, you give them a small piece of paper and a pencil. You do the same to the girls.

They are to write a question directed to a girl, such as "What do you think of boys who kiss a girl on the first date?" or any number of questions. The girls do the same about boys' questions. Such as "What do you think of girls who drink or smoke?"

Put the boys' questions in one box and the girls in another. Then the moderator selects a girl to pick a boy's question and a boy to pick a girl's question.

The moderator picks some-one, either a volunteer or a draft, to elaborate. It can be real funny and at times serious. You can really find out what the opposite sex feels about cer-tain things, because you never know who wrote the question.

If that doesn't start the ball rolling, I'd say you had a room full of duds.

Teen-agers: If you have a question or issue you'd like me to discuss, you may write me, Joe Bavaresco, in care of this newspaper.

The Top Ten

Westmoor Whirl

By SHEILA STAVISH

SANGUINARY session was held by psychology classes as they pricked forefingers for blood typing. In the interests of science the Spartan students nobly stabbed themselves without a wince, writhe, or whim-per. However, one faint female, who hadn't the nerve to undertake the odious ordeal herself, appealed to instructor Car Caulfeldt, who obligingly lanced the quivering pinky. Chemistry teacher Ann Golden, curi-ous to see if she was an "A," "B," or "O," also took advantage of the tyro technicians testing.

Beginning biologist spent two less dolorous days, seeing the film, "The Restless Sea." The two-part docu-mentary was featured recently on the "Bell Tele-phone Hour."

OTHER student scientists, two of Stuart Mephams physical science pupils, were a bit taken aback by their teacher's unique use of laboratory apparatus. Ar-riving for a lunchtime conference, the girls found Stu-art Mephams drinking coffee from a beaker—a substi-tute for a broken cup.

Terminating the trials of trigonometry, math stu-dents have begun the spring semester struggling through advanced math seminar. First two nights of reading assignments covered a formidable 50 pages of postulates, definitions, and theorems.

Entertaining 50 rambunctious Cub Scouts did not daunt freshmen Hazel Deacon and Pam Furrer and sophomore Joyce Cauteruccio. The girls enthralled the eight to eleven-year olds with a space age puppet show entitled "The Martian Hop" at the annual "Blue and Gold" dinner held at Abraham Lincoln Elementary.

KING CLAUDE (Vince McNally) and Princess Angelique (Marge Dupuy) are terrified when the Wicked Enchanter (William Catanesse) turns himself into a lion in the San Francisco Players Guild production of "Puss in Boots." The production will be sponsored by the Jefferson School District Council of P-TAs on Saturday Feb. 22 at the Colma School, and Sunday, Feb. 23, at Ben Franklin School. Tickets are 50 cents and may be obtained Friday at the schools in the district. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Kevin Donovan at PL 5-4798.

Spirit Week Is Scheduled

By SUE SHERMAN

Pent-up anticipation awaits the arrival of Febru-ary 19 at Westmoor, when it will fly forth in a burst of enthusiasm to greet Spirit Week.

To begin the festivities will be Costume Day on Wednesday.

Wild imaginations will range of costumes which may be on any theme. A sock hop will be held in the girl's gym from 3 to 4 p.m. after school, free of charge.

Next day's theme will en-courage students' outfits to be "Dressy," with at least white shirts and ties mandatory for boys and heels required for girls.

Climax of Spirit Week comes on Friday, which is Color Day. Freshmen will be outfitted in red; sophomores, yellow; juniors, green; and seniors, white.

Class skits will be given at a rally where the Spirit Week Trophy will also be presented to the class which has been judged to have participated most ac-tively in the three days' activi-ties. Two secret judges from each class determine the num-ber of points to be awarded each class for spirit shown during this time.

Friday afternoon will see the "big" game at Jefferson, and probably produce a wide Westmoor's cafeteria will be the site of the Junior Prom that evening.

Points accumulated during the three days will go not only to-ward the Spirit Week Trophy, but also toward the Perpetual Trophy awarded in June to the class which has shown the most all-around spirit throughout the entire school year.

Pacifica Teen Club Sets Dance

The Pacifica Teen Club will hold its monthly dance Saturday at the Pedro Valley School. Al-mission fee is 75 cents for mem-bers and one dollar for non-members.

The doors will open from 8 to 9 p.m. After 9 p.m. no one will be admitted unless prior ar-rangements have been made with the Recreation department.

Church 1st Unit
Gains Approval

Plans for the first unit of the new Bethlehem Lutheran Church, which will serve the Fairmont area in the northern part of the city, were approved by Pacifica planning commissioners last week.

Long range plans for the new church call for a sanctuary seating 450 persons, 12 classrooms and a social hall.

Six-Month
Detour Set
In Pacifica

A major detour that will continue for six months was scheduled to be opened yesterday afternoon on the coastal highway at the Sharp Park Road intersection in conjunction with Pacifica's freeway construction.

Traffic south along the coastal highway will be detoured along the future freeway's west frontage road—Francisco Boulevard between Pacific Avenue and Fairway Park.

Dino Cassinelli, state highway engineer, says the old Sharp Park Road connection will be barricaded and traffic diverted over a new road at the base of the cut.

This will eventually be part of the new east frontage road, running from Sharp Park to Lunday Way in Fairway Park.

Piers have been erected for a new bridge that will take traffic from the Sharp Park Road over the freeway to the west frontage road.

On-and-off ramps also will be constructed to provide a full traffic interchange at the Sharp Park intersection.

Cassinelli said that all frontage roads at the north end of Pacifica are being paved.

Traffic soon will be diverted onto them from the present highway so the contractor can begin digging. The freeway will be depressed in that area.

Slate Seated
By SSF Club

New officers of the South San Francisco Rod and Gun club have been installed.

They are: Peter Ruggeri, president; Steve Stamates, vice president; Harold Varni, treasurer; Jack Shallaba, secretary; William Nedved, sergeant-at-arms.

Newly elected members of the board of directors are: Nello Sciadri, Dante Sciadri, Oreste Zampatti, Fred Miller, Al Firenze and Harold Trell.

The first unit of the new structure, on Hickey Boulevard at Beachview Drive, will be 1500 square feet.

Planners acted on a long standing application of Thomas Driscoll to rezone 23 acres on the old Coast Highway at Daly City city limits when they recommended the property be changed from a residential-estate area to a garden apartment zone.

Before Driscoll begins actual construction of the new apartment project, however, members of the city's planning staff reported he must work out erosion problems.

James Supinger, junior planner, reported that much of the data needed for a study of the southeastern part of the city and the new Park Pacifica area is now collected, and a report should be submitted to councilmen and the commission by the end of the month.

In other actions, commissioners:

Granted Patrick Haggerty a variance permit to construct a home on a substandard lot on Lomita Vista Terrace, but denied Clinton G. Beirne permission to build a duplex on a substandard lot on Ocean Boulevard.

Rezoned two lots on Salada Avenue between Palmetto Avenue and Cabrillo Highway to permit construction of a four-unit apartment building.

Granted Mr. and Mrs. John LeCartz a variance to construct houses on two substandard lots on Elken Street.

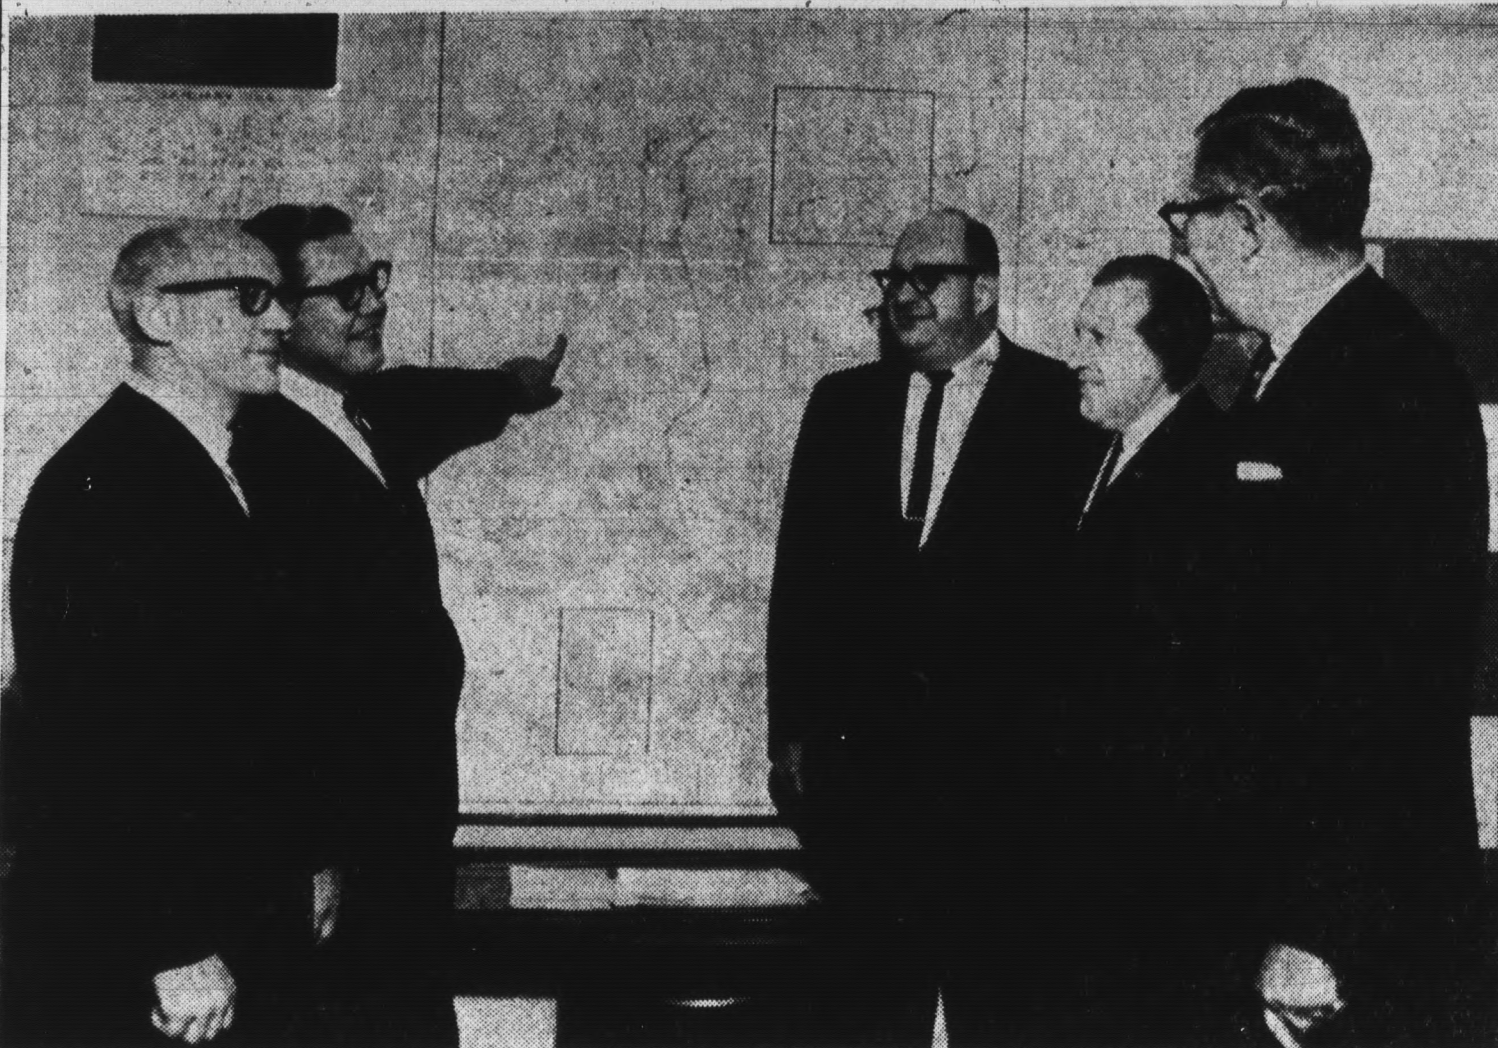

Referred to the Building Inspector's office for recommendation a request from the contractor of apartments off Manor Drive that he be allowed to surface carports with asphalt rather than concrete.

Retired Bishop
To Visit Here

The Right Reverend Richard Kirchhoffer, retired Bishop of Indianapolis, will visit St. Martin's Episcopal Church in Daly City April 12 to administer Confirmation.

Confirmation classes are now in progress and anyone interested in attending may obtain more information by phoning the Vicar at PL 6-3514.

The drive began February 1 and has a goal of $5,000.

Corned Beef Simmering on Range Has Murmur of a Hearty Meal

Corned beef simmering gently on the range seems to murmur that the dinner menu will be a hearty one. The usual vegetables cooked and served with corned beef are cabbage and boiled potatoes but a delightfully unusual switch is to sweet potatoes and Brussels sprouts.

Modern corned beef brisket is easy to buy in family-size, drip-free packages ranging in weights from 2½ to 6 pounds. There is a choice to be made between regular and garlic and spice cures.

A personal touch can be added to the regular corned beef by adding a bay leaf and onion slices, or caraway seeds to the cooking water. The subtle flavor may be linked to a rich golden raisin sauce by including caraway as one of the ingredients.

A good cook who makes the best use of her time often cooks a piece of corned beef brisket large enough to serve for more than one meal. And, incidentally, she may shorten the total cooking time considerably by using a pressure saucepan and the directions recommended by the equipment manufacturer.

Corned Beef and Apple en Casserole is a recipe designed especially for using sliced corned beef for a second meal. Many will proclaim it better than the first.

Another second meal idea is to cut the cooked corned beef into half inch cubes to be added to a hearty salad combination of cooked sliced beets and potatoes and chopped dill pickle.

A tasty marinade is made of salad oil, vinegar, dry mustard, dill weed, chopped chives, and salt and pepper to pour over the meat and vegetables. The seasonings blend well during chilling. The salad can be served in lettuce or cabbage leaves and garnished with wedges of hard-cooked eggs.

Bacon also offers many tempting menu treats.

Corned Beef with Sweets and Little Cabbages

3 to 4 pounds corned beef with garlic and spice
1 bay leaf
1 small onion, sliced
8 sweet potatoes
2 packages (10 ounces each) frozen Brussels sprouts

Place corned beef in a kettle and cover with water. Add bay leaf and onion and cover. Simmer 3 to 3½ hours or until fork-tender. Add pared sweet potatoes last 30 minutes of cooking time. Add frozen Brussels sprouts the last 15 minutes of cooking time. Remove corned beef to platter and arrange vegetables around it.

Note: If corned beef brisket with regular cure is used, add 1 teaspoon mixed whole spices to cooking water. Yield: 8 servings.

Caraway Corned Beef

3 to 4 pound corned beef brisket
1 bay leaf
1 teaspoon caraway seeds
1 small onion, sliced
Place corned beef in a kettle and cover with water. Add spices and onion and cover. Simmer 3 to 3½ hours or until fork-tender. Serve hot with Golden Caraway Sauce. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Golden Caraway Sauce

½ cups apple juice
1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 teaspoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon grated lemon peel
½ teaspoon caraway seeds
½ cup golden raisins
1 teaspoon brown sugar
½ teaspoon salt
Combine apple juice and cornstarch in a saucepan. Add remaining ingredients and cook, stirring constantly until sauce is thick and clear. Serve hot over corned beef.

Corned Beef and Apple En Casserole

8 to 10 slices cooked corned beef
2 teaspoons lemon juice
3 cooking apples, pared and sliced
1-3 cup brown sugar
1½ tablespoons flour
2 onions, peeled and sliced
Add lemon juice to apple slices. Blend brown sugar and flour. Place ingredients in layers in a 1½ quart casserole, beginning with half the apple slices, then half the onion slices, sprinkle with half of the brown sugar mixture, and top with 4 to 5 slices of corned beef. Repeat. Cover casserole and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 40 minutes, or until apple slices are tender. Yield: 5 to 6 servings.

Liver and Bacon

12 to 16 slices bacon
¾ pound sliced calf, lamb, or tender beef liver
¼ cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
1-16 teaspoon pepper
Cinnamon apple rings
Pan-fry bacon until crisp. Drain and keep hot. Pour off all but about 2 tablespoons drippings from skillet. Dip liver slices into flour. Pan-fry over moderate heat until browned on both sides, about 8 to 10 minutes. Season. Serve hot with crisp bacon and cinnamon apple rings. Gravy may be made from brown drippings in skillet if desired. Yield: 4 servings.

Bacon Crunchy Dip

½ cup cooked, chopped bacon
½ cup cream cheese
2 teaspoons catsup
1 teaspoon prepared mustard

¼ teaspoon ground ginger
¼ cup dairy sour cream
Potato chips or crackers
Soften cream cheese. Add catsup, mustard, ginger, sour cream, and bacon. Blend well. Serve with potato chips or crackers. Yield: About 1 cup dip.

Bacon and Lettuce Tossup

½ pound sliced bacon, cut into ½ inch pieces
1 head lettuce
1 cup drained diced cooked beets

¼ cup sliced green onions
¼ cup bacon drippings
3 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons light cream
1 teaspoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon dry mustard
½ teaspoon paprika
Dash pepper

Pan-fry bacon until crisp. Drain on absorbent paper. Reserve ¼ cup drippings for dressing. Tear lettuce into pieces. Combine beets, onions, and bacon bits with lettuce in salad bowl. Mix rest of the ingredients in skillet. Cook over low heat until well mixed and flavors are blended. Pour dressing over vegetables and toss lightly. Serve immediately. Yield: 6 servings.

Bacon-Corn Chowder

½ pound sliced bacon, cut into 1-inch pieces
2 small onions, peeled and sliced
1 tablespoon flour
1 cup water
2 cups finely diced potatoes

1 cup chopped celery
2 bay leaves
2 cans (1 pound each) cream style corn
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon white pepper

Pan-fry bacon until crisp. Drain on absorbent paper. Reserve ¼ cup bacon drippings and place in a kettle. Sauté onion in bacon drippings about 5 minutes. Blend in flour and mix to a smooth paste. Gradually add the water and stir until smooth. Add the potatoes, celery, and bay leaves. Cover and cook over low heat for about 15 minutes or until potatoes are done. Stir occasionally. Blend in corn, milk, seasonings, and bacon. Heat for 15 minutes. Serve hot. If desired, sprinkle with chopped chives before serving. Yield: approximately 5 to 6 servings.

Saucepan Supper With Franks

½ pound franks
7 ounce package noodles
2 teaspoons salt

1 cup dairy sour cream
1½ teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon nutmeg
Place franks and noodles in boiling salted water in the same saucepan. Continue to cook for 8 minutes. Remove franks from water. Drain water from noodles and place in serving dish. Toss with sour cream, Worcestershire sauce and nutmeg. Place franks on top of noodle mixture. Serve immediately. Yield: 4 servings.

Tempting Menus for Family or Company Fare During Lenten Season

These tempting menus can be changed from Family Fare to Company Fare with a few simple glamorizing touches. During Lent, the two-way menus offer a variety of ways to serve favorite foods. Cheddar-Creole Baked Fish is tasty made with fish fillets for the family, spectacular as a whole stuffed fish for buffet serving. The salad is pineapple slices garnished with green grapes and topped with Orange-Almond Cottage Cheese. For ease of preparation, bake fresh spring asparagus and parsnips in lemon butter in the oven along with the fish. The simple Chocolate Pudding for family dessert can be glamorized into a Chocolate Mousse for company fare. Another versatile menu starts with meatless Cheddar Cheese Pasta Sauce. Make it with sharp-flavored Cheddar, smoky Provolone or creamy Brick. Pour it over spaghetti, family style. Use it to make Lazy La-

Casserole with shrimp for a gourmet luncheon. Lively flavors from France, Spain and Italy blend in a Mediterranean Salad. Dessert can change from ice cream sundaes to stately parfaits. Offer milk to complete the entree and coffee with dessert.

In mixer or blender, whip cottage cheese until smooth and creamy; mix in orange rind. Fold in almonds and cherries and serve over fresh or canned pineapple slices garnished with green grapes.

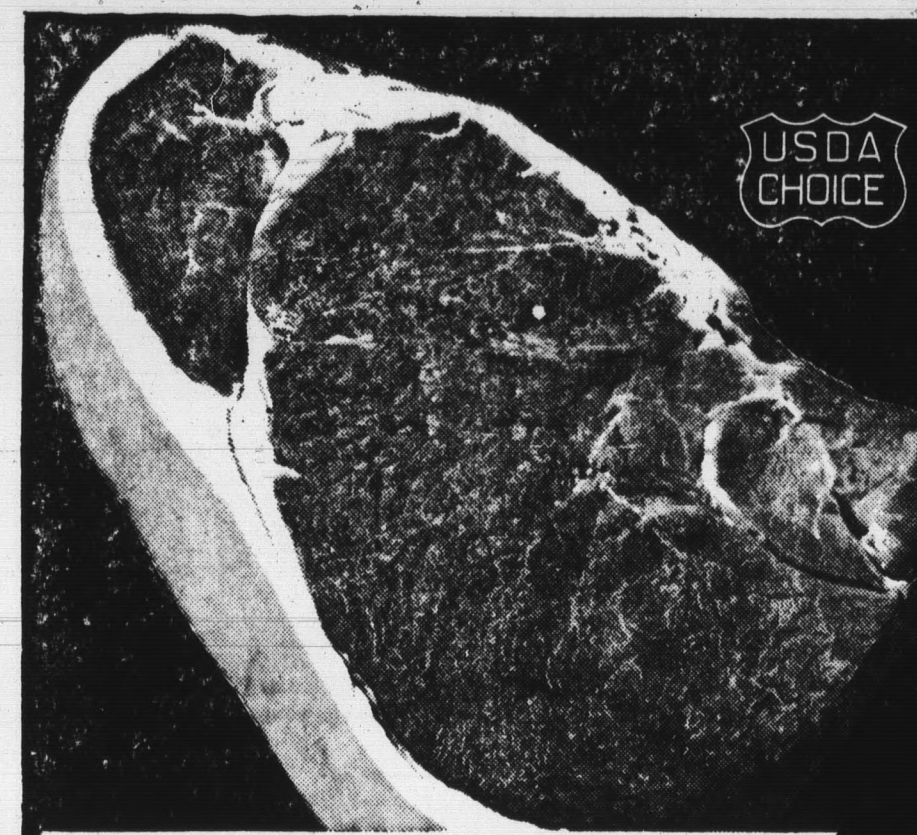

Note: For Party Fare use 1 large pineapple to prepare Salad Buffet. Cut top off pineapple; slice down through fruit 1/4 inch inside rind to within 1 inch of bottom. Insert knife 1 1/2 inches up from bottom, cutting through to pineapple rind on opposite side, then rotate knife in a semi-circle one direction. Turn knife and repeat cutting in other direction, thus severing the fruit. Remove whole fruit section and cut into 6-8 crosswise slices (depending on size of pineapple). Using a small biscuit cutter, remove core from each slice. Place pineapple shell "bowl" to hold Orange-Almond Cottage Cheese and garnish with additional almonds and leaves of plume, if desired. Jelly Glaze Dresses Up Lamb Rounds

How many times during these first few weeks of 1964 have you caught yourself writing 1963 on statements and letters. And how many times have you caught yourself serving the same kind of stereotyped meals you served in 1963?

A meat cookery expert and home economist, advocates a bit of imagination in planning weekday meals during the coming year. Let your creativity culminate in a dish like Lamb Rounds with Jelly Glaze.

The featured meat is ground lamb. It's flavored with minced sweet pickles and onion and shaped into rounds (or patties). The meat is browned, then topped with currant jelly which forms the glaze after the rounds are cooked.

Lamb Rounds-Jelly Glaze
2 pounds ground lamb 1/2 cup soft bread crumbs 2 tablespoons grated onion 1 egg, beaten 2 teaspoons salt 1/4 teaspoon pepper 3 tablespoons minced sweet pickles 1/2 cup milk 2 tablespoons lard or drippings 1/4 cup currant jelly

Combine ground lamb, bread crumbs, onion, egg, salt, pepper, pickles and milk. Shape into 8 patties. Brown patties in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Top each patty with 1/2 tablespoon currant jelly. Cover tightly and cook slowly 30 minutes. 6 to 8 servings.

Montara Beach Resort Opens Next Wednesday

FRANK TORRES, restaurant "general" of Montara Beach, and his lovely wife, Fannie, will reopen their beach side restaurant Wednesday, February 12. This should be good news for the "vacation-at-home" set. Here, one can enjoy a resort atmosphere, excellent drinks, specially flavored food, and Friday and Saturday night dancing. The San Bruno Mesa management reports capacity business and an abundance of credit to the Royals, a hit musical group now in its third week here. No cover or minimum charge for weekend dancing. The dancing of Exotica at the Moulin Rouge is the talk of the San Francisco North Beach sector. This is the same lass who did a "stripping" performance in the movie "The Interns". A Sabella's Fisherman's Wharf restaurant is an ideal place for fashion shows. The main dining room, which affords a scenic picture window backdrop of the busy wharf, seats up to 350 persons. Dancing nightly to Joe Marcellino's Orchestra; never cover charge. Never knew until the other p.m. that Vince's Italian and Sea Food restaurant prepared food to go. They do, yes, sir. Up to and including soup. Special containers are provided which keep the "vittles" hot for home service. Like Pierre and Elaine Filanc's slogan "Food with a Personality." "Them's real eatin' words" — and Pierre's is a mighty fine eatin' place.

JACKIE MASON, who opened in the Fairmont's Venetian Room, last night, is truly one of the nation's funniest funny men. In this day and age, with comics arriving in town by the "carload," it's refreshing to sit through a performance of monologue which varies from psychiatrists problems to income tax situations. Jackie's material, delivered in a Bronx accent, will keep you entertained from opening to closing. Ron Giannotti's new Surf House is in full swing after a gala grand opening celebration, last Wednesday and Thursday. This swank club can rightly take its place among the Peninsula's decor, beverage and food best.

Keith Williamson, the Burlingame chicken "king," has a new roof over his head. During its installation, Keith couldn't hear the phone ring for take-out orders. So if you didn't get a response to your phone call, fear not. Business is going along as usual—home delivery and restaurant-wise. Work on the roof is completed. The Polynesian atmosphere in the Lanai (next door to the Villa Charter and under Emerson Murfee's operation) is highlighted by Chef Lepp's tasty Cantonese and East Indian food. Those island drinks are most relaxing. In fact, if the beverage list suggests one to a customer, "you better believe it." A friend of Yours Truly recently partook of three Mai Tai—and left the scene without even waving "aloha."

Oakland Holiday Inn Preems New Menu-Show

Caught the new Oakland Holiday Inn "Holiday in Vegas" Revue, Tuesday evening, and hasten to say that the management here deserves a cheer (and a good loud one) for trying to keep live entertainment on the East Bay schedule.

Seems the parade of big names is a thing of the past. With a revamped menu, entree and price-wise (complete dinners from $3.95, drink included), and the elimination of a cover charge, except on Saturdays, you may enjoy a talent-filled production of exotic and formal show girls, glittering stage settings, new and revealing costumes of French design, plus a pair of young comics, Carme and Paul who also excel on vocals. Ray Binney is the producer of this fast-moving and entertaining show.

Showtimes: Tuesday through Saturday, 8:30 p.m. and 11:30 p.m.; Sunday, 7:30 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. Playing for the revue and for dancing is Roy Lippi and his Orchestra.

Belle Oliver and Vivian

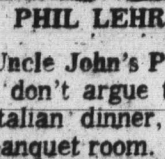

Ralph McEntyre

Grant provide continuous entertainment at the piano bar in the cocktail lounge. Genial Dave Hagar, restaurant and lounge manager, tends to reservations and maitre d' duties.

Mr. Ralph McEntyre, whose managing experience includes leading hotels and restaurants in this country and Europe, is general manager of the Oakland Holiday Inn.

PHIL LEHR is seeking a manager for his Gaslight Steak House in Tokyo, Japan. Anyone with a "yen" to travel, see Phil at his downtown Steakery in San Fran. Excitement galore at the Sheraton Villa Motor Inn, recently, when the new Chrysler Turbine was on display here. Amata, new member of the Tavaque group, caused almost as much attention as the car when she got behind the wheel for an interior inspection. The Palo Alto Cabana is proud to announce the return of the Big Beats to Nero's Nook. This great group, comprised of six talented young men who play guitar, trombone, trumpet and drums, is now appearing nightly—8:30 to 1:30, through Feb. 24. The expression "World Famous" is over exaggerated in many cases. But when Uncle John's Pancake House mentions it in their advertisement, I don't argue the point. For a consistent and extra good Italian dinner, try the Valdoro. Also cocktail service and a banquet room.

PHIL LEHR

Barney Likes Wellman Ork.

Barney O'Malia, Lake Tahoe (South Shore) Casino boss, back from his vacation in South America and spending his Bay Area overnight in the Burlingame Hyatt House Hotel.

"If, and when, I get my new hotel built," commented Barney, "I'm going to have a long talk with Bob Wellman and see if he would like the Nevada climate well enough to bring his orchestra with him."

Sunday Night Family Reunion

Sunday night at Bertolucci's is a truly family night. This is the night when in-laws and children sit in for dinner—and a regular old-time family reunion is enjoyed by all. Delightful French Italian cuisine, along with tortellini, ravioli, and cannelloni as prepared by Mama Bertolucci, completes the dining scene.

Louis Prima Opens Tonight

Louis Prima, along with Gia Maione, and Sam Butera and the Witnesses, take over the spotlight at the swank San Jose Safari Room, tonight. This much looked-forward-to show promises to be an every-night sellout, according to Manager Paul Catalana. Suggestion: Make reservations and, above all, make it for dinner—it's the greatest.

Pineapple Pizza Now Being Served

"This had to happen sooner or later. There is no time like the present to tell you that Enrico Romano and Company plan to start a pizza stampede to Pacifica with the debut of a new "disc" which he calls "Pineapple Pizza." It's topped off with juice and shredded pineapple—very tasty! You'll have to order one to receive the full flavor treat. Found myself ordering not one, but two—and two pizzas for me is a banquet.

Raquel and Carlo

Raquel and Carlo, who close a successful engagement at Luz Garcia's Sinaloa, will rate the many customer raves as being one of the most outstanding Flamenco teams to appear at this Powell Street cantina in many years. Offers from South America will take them out of the country for a short time. Miss Garcia has inked them to a return engagement at the end of this year.

Steaks and seafood are specialties of the house at Nick's in Pacifica. Restaurant open seven days a week from 10 a.m. Incidentally, Nick's also specializes in banquets.

Lucian, Finocchio's male Sophie Tucker, has a new act that's a dandy. This is the 20th act Lucian has introduced as a Finocchio star in the last 10 years.

Unusual things in unusual places: A pair of dark glasses in the Hyatt House Hotel "Wishing Well." I know for sure that General Manager Ed Sullivan doesn't feature skin diving in this pool.

Besides being the "guiding light" at Joe's of Westlake, Bruno Scatena is "ditto" for Original Joe's in the Marina. One of my favorite dishes here is broiled rib steak side-dished with spaghetti and ravioli.

Lew Lehr gives his definition of a divorce: "A 'splitting' headache."

Sheriff's Office

Last night Lou Rocca Jr., co-owner of Rocca's restaurant, turned the restaurant over to the Sheriff's office of San Francisco so that they could hold a retirement dinner for Howard Dunn, Chief Deputy Sheriff of the Civil Department. Everyone had a good time, including Chief Deputy Dunn.

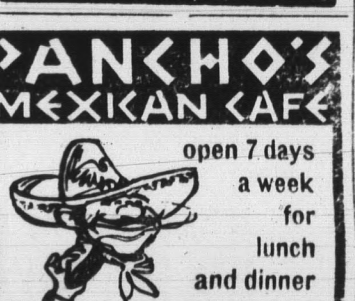

BONNIE ENGLAND
Oakland Holiday Inn

Nick Finocchio's New Tivoli restaurant is not open on Tuesdays. However, during the balance of the week both luncheon and dinner is served.

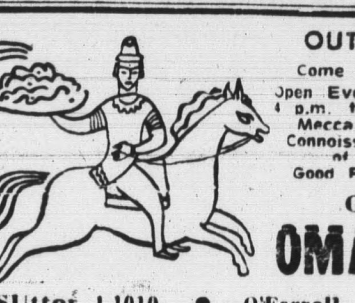

Before and after-dinner cocktails are enjoyed in the Rubaiyat Lounge at Omar Khayyam's. A most romantic and colorful setting.

Whether you want luncheon or dinner, they are both a treat in wonderful eating at the attractive Brentwood Lodge.

A New Pitch To Old Game

By LORENE BEASLEY
Editor, Better Business
Bureau "Barometer"

EVERY DAY, Better Business Bureau offices throughout the United States receive calls concerning magazine subscription solicitation — received either over the telephone or from door-to-door salesmen who are usually young men working their way through college.

The Better Business Bureau of San Mateo County reports a new phoney pitch — the young man working his way through college has turned into a comely young lady working her way through a local nursing school.

The administrator of the nursing school has denied any arrangements with magazine publishers and expressed his hope that the people approached by these girls would not be misled.

HOWEVER, the majority of subscription crews do represent firms that are reputable members of Central Registry.

Central Registry is an association of major magazine publishers and distributors that requires the posting of a $1,000 performance bond by its members to insure compliance with subscription contracts obtained by their traveling crews.

Before signing any contract, check the salesperson's credentials and his license to sell in your city. Be sure to receive a completely filled out copy of your contract.

If you check these details thoroughly you can feel sure that you will receive your magazines. Allow about 60 days for your magazines to arrive as it sometimes takes that long for subscriptions to be processed.

MAGAZINE selling is highly competitive and however legal it may be it is filled with gimmicks.

Central Registry prohibits such sales pitches as "30 to 35 cents a week over a period of four to five years" pays for two popular magazines and three other magazines are free.

There is NOTHING free! The subscriber is actually paying the full, long-term price of the magazine.

The advantage in such an offer is that the potential subscriber, instead of putting out $60 to $90 in advance cash, can pay it off on the installment plan at the rate of $2.50 to $3.50 a month over a two-year period.

Besides being licensed by local cities, reputable soliciting companies are registered with the Better Business Bureau.

If you have any doubts about the magazine salesman who calls upon you, phone the Bureau at 347-1251.

S.F. Airport Tells Terms For Industry

San Francisco International Airport officials, dealing from a position of strength, have again emphasized their willingness to form a Millbrae-San Bruno industrial area, on their own terms.

Manager Belford Brown says the airport will listen to proposals only when the two cities are willing to get rid of homes east of the Southern Pacific's railway.

With a huge industrial complex around the airport being planned by San Francisco's Public Utilities Commission and several developers, Brown is not rushing into a deal.

Both Millbrae and San Bruno have been talking about joint effort to develop the lowlands east of the railway and west of the freeway as an industrial park.

The vacant land is owned by the airport and is used only for storm water ponding, and for pasture. It has been termed as an ideal development site, with ready access to the airport, the railway, and the major highway.

School Credit Union to Meet

The Jefferson Elementary School District Employees Federal Credit Union will hold its second annual dinner meeting at Nick's, Rockaway Beach, Saturday.

Further information and reservations may be obtained by calling Fred Schweickhardt at WY 2-1000, ext. 356.

Fire Damage Totals $240

Fire caused an estimated $240 damage in a Daly City home early Saturday morning.

The fire burned a couch and scorched a floor in the home of Walter A. Todd at 97 Shakespeare Street. Firefighters said the flames apparently were started by a smoldering cigarette.

Cluff Named To New Home Mutual Post

Robert Cluff, branch loan manager at the Westlake office of Home Mutual Savings and Loan Association at 5 Southgate Avenue, Daly City, has been promoted to branch loan manager at the San Francisco Branch Headquarters at 10 Kearney Street, according to an announcement by Charles Wellman, president of Home Mutual.

Cluff has been in the financial field in Northern California for 14 years. He joined Home Mutual in 1960 and has been manager of the Westlake branch since March of 1962.

He and his wife, Diane, and two children live in San Mateo. He is a member of the Daly City Lions Club, the Daly City Colma Chamber of Commerce and the San Francisco Real Estate Board.

Leonard Jones, loan officer at the Westlake office since 1961, has been appointed to succeed Cluff as branch loan manager.

Prior to joining Home Mutual, Jones ran his own real estate business in Daly City and San Francisco. He is treasurer of the San Francisco chapter of the American Society of Appraisers and belongs to Native Sons of the Golden West.

Jones lives in Millbrae with his wife, Thelma, and their son, Rich.

13 Permits Issued by D.C. Office

Thirteen building permits for construction estimated to cost $75,620 have been issued by the Daly City Building Inspector's Office since the beginning of February.

One of the 13 permits was for construction of a four-unit apartment house at 115 Knowles Avenue by Karp Properties of San Francisco.

Other permits were issued to: Reynold C. Vioti, 445 Lakeshire drive, to build a social room.

Louis Abraham, 232 Willits Street, to add asbestos siding.

Emmett Blincoe, 448 Woodrow Street, to build new home at 214 Vista Grande Street.

Standard Oil Company, to remove pump canopy at 392 Alemany Boulevard.

N. F. Organischak, 261 Second Avenue, to add aluminum window.

Soloman Oates, 606 San Diego Avenue, to add aluminum siding.

Wildwood Park Homes of San Francisco, to build new home at 120 Alta Vista Way.

Gale P. Ward, 488 Woodrow Street, to finish rumpus room.

Dino Rovai, 120 Vale Street, to recover floors and walls.

Tony DiBastio, 300 Evergreen Avenue, to repair walls.

Albert T. Orme, 94 Mar Vista Drive, to build retaining wall.

Irving B. Blackfield, 369 Glenwood Avenue, to build family room.

Site Okay Withheld

Members of the Daly City Planning Commission have withheld approval of the Jefferson Elementary School District's selection of a school site behind the St. Francis Square Shopping Center, but said they had no objection to it.

The school district asked for the approval in order to obtain state aid for purchase of the site.

Dr. David Shapiro, assistant superintendent, said the district could still receive the aid, but that there would be a 30-day waiting period.

Commission members said they did not have ample time to study the matter so they could not give their approval.

RADIOS STOLEN

William Moeller of 12 Seaview Drive, Daly City, reported to police last week that thieves had stolen two walkie-talkie radios and tools.

DON'T MISS THIS GREAT EVENT

A Bright, New Store Opens

WIDE AISLES and bright, glare-free lighting are among features that make shopping pleasant and convenient in the spacious new Al-Tone Hardware and Paint Center in the St. Francis Square Shopping Center. Grand opening of the new store will be observed during a gala four-day celebration, beginning today and extending through Saturday. A raft of free prizes will be given away in conjunction with the opening. (Post-Times Photo)

NATIONAL GROUP

Al-Tone Member Of Pro Stores

Al-Tone Hardware and Paint Center in the St. Francis Square Shopping Center is an affiliate of Pro Hardware Stores, an association of more than 900 independently-owned stores that have banded together to bring their customers lower prices through greater buying power.

Pro Stores are located in 46 states extending from the East to the West Coasts and from Canada to Texas and New Mexico.

They are sponsored by 20 hardware wholesalers throughout the United States.

Dunham, Carrigan and Hayden Company is the Pro distributor in this area.

Pro Hardware Incorporated, in Larchmont, N. Y., coordinates the wholesale group and acts as a central buying office, sales promotion and merchandising headquarters.

In addition to multi-store buying power, the organization provides a modern scientific inventory control system that enables the stores to carry a larger variety of items and a constant supply that avoids shortages and customer disappointments.

They sell at prices competitive with mail order firms and discount houses.

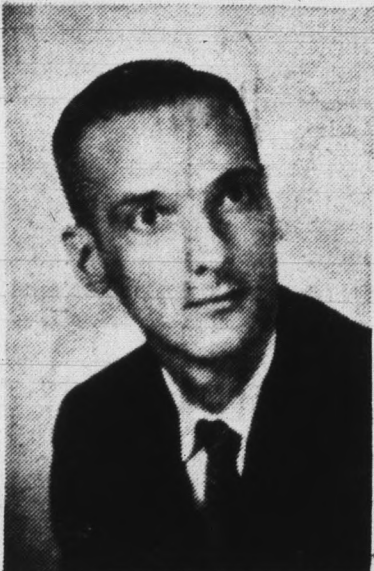

Pro stores also have their own exclusive brand name, "Proven," on many products. The "Proven" merchandise is made by well-known national manufacturers.

Free Gifts to Mark Opening

A raft of free prizes, valued at hundreds of dollars, are among the special attractions offered by Al-Tone Hardware and Paint Center during its four day grand opening celebration, starting today.

Each visitor will receive a free ticket, and winners will be selected at a drawing to be held at 3 p.m. Saturday afternoon. There is no obligation to buy and it is not necessary to be present to win.

The list of valuable prizes offers something for every member of the family.

DAN FORNE of the Ben Franklin Variety Store is the new president of the St. Francis Square Shopping Center Merchants' Association. Other officers are James Ragland of the St. Francis Square Barber Shop, vice president and Clem Adams of Star Realty, secretary-treasurer.

Prizes and Values Will Mark Event

Visitors at the grand opening of Al-Tone Paint and Hardware Center this week which features four big days of special values, prizes, demonstrations and free gifts, will find nearly 10,000 items of new merchandise attractively displayed in modern fixtures that are designed to make shopping a pleasure.

Much of the new merchandise is supplied by the Pro organization, an affiliation of more than 900 independently-owned hardware stores with nationwide buying power.

The Pro firm also provides a modern system of inventory control that is an advantage to both merchant and shopper.

One of the major advantages of the new store is the large parking lot in St. Francis Square Shopping Center that makes it possible for customers to drive almost to the door.

At the rear of the building, there will be another parking lot for trucks and industrial customers.

Wide aisles are among other features that add to the shoppers' convenience. The store will carry charge accounts for customer convenience.

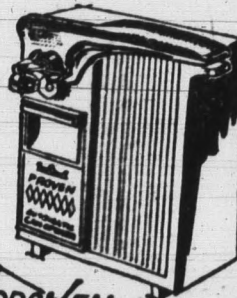

The new store covers 13,000 square feet of floor space.

Nancy Asks Abolish D.A.

Nancy Jewell Cross has proposed to the County Board of Supervisors that a charter amendment be submitted to the voters in June abolishing the office of district attorney.

Miss Cross, who has fought with the district attorney's of-

with the district attorney's office on a number of issues and who was recently prosecuted for malicious mischief, recommended that four new elective positions and one appointive job be created to handle the various phases of work now done by the district attorney.

District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson said his office is a constitutional office and cannot be abolished by charter amendment.

Group Meets In Fairmont

Fifty homeowners attended the first general meeting of the new Fairmont Subdivisions Improvement Association last week, approving a constitution and bylaws.

President Fred Stearns said the meeting was primarily informational, to explain to homeowners the purpose of the organization. Forms were distributed to those interested in becoming active on city committees or commissions.

An architectural committee has been appointed to review complaints and grant variances. The association is set up to enforce the restrictive covenants written into deeds on all Fairmont homes—similar to Westlake home deeds.

Fairmont homeowners are required to maintain palm trees planted in front of their homes and to keep the major portion of their front yards in grass.

Back yard fences are limited to six feet above grade.

JEWELRY MISSING

Lawrence A. Weston of 436 St. Francis Boulevard, Daly City, reported to police last week that a men's watch, ring and $12 were missing from a jewelry box on top of a dresser. He said the watch and ring were valued at $180.

CHAR-BROILER DEMONSTRATION ALL DAY SATURDAY

Another chapter in CHAR-BROIL's rich history

♥ You see those people. They're in love. That Char-Broil brought them together. Night after night, this sitting duck barbecued and shish-kabobbed and roasted and smoke-cooked and raised such a smell about it all that this neighborhood beauty had to come up and investigate. You see, she couldn't cook.

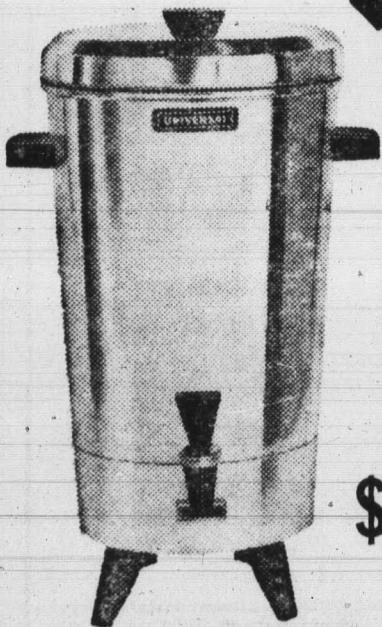

She still can't. Makes no difference, because you really just leave it to the Char-Broil. It does everything by itself. Take this fellow, for instance. He proposed while the roast was turning. You should see their eight kids. The eldest will inherit the Char-Broil.

Think this story fanciful? Take a chance, bachelors. As for you married women, watch out for the neighborhood girls.

Further, less romantic, facts

The Char-Broil Covered Portable Pit is pretty near universally known as the masterpiece of cast iron, oak and steel that has turned America outdoors. We firmly believe that there is nothing close to comparable on the market today. Whatever it can't do with food shouldn't be done. Accessories available are the Electric Spit, the Electric Shish-Ka-Bobs and the Smoker for Western style cooking. Come by and look it over—if you haven't seen the one and only and original Char-Broil, you've never seen anything like it before.

over 1 1/2 h.p. motor

At this low price, no other saw compares with this genuine Skilsaw. Its full 7 1/4" blade cuts 2" lumber at 45° — even after several blade sharpenings. And with over 1 1/2 h.p., it handles heavier duty cutting work. Won't stall out on tough ripping jobs. Check and compare these other top-quality features:

- Heavy-duty quadrant and ribbed shoe for extra rigidity, accuracy at any cutting angle or depth.
- Ball and anti-friction bearings throughout.
- Sawdust ejector system directs dust away from operator.
- Heavy-duty 1 1/2" safety clamp blade washer.
- Vari-Torque safety clutch.
- Bind free lower blade guard can't jam even on compound miter cuts.
